Former Railroad Official's Companion Accused of Using His Wife's Name.

NEEDED FUNDS FOR BAIL

Admirer Was in Jail, Charged With Embezzling Over $120,000.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Charged with forgery of a quitclaim deed to property valued at $100,000 in order to furnish bail for another woman's husband, who, in turn, is charged with the embezzlement of over $120,000, a beautiful woman of 32 years was arrested here yesterday and held for trial in bonds of $1500.

It is alleged that this woman, whose arrest will cause amazement in the most exclusive social circle of New York, Chicago and Toronto, forged the name of the wife of Charles F. Wenham, formerly one of the best-known railroad traffic managers in the country, in order to raise $50,000 with which to liberate Wenham from the Ludlow Street Jail in this city. It is declared that she has been Wenham's companion for years, masquerading as his wife.

The lawful Mrs. Wenham, whose home is in Chicago, declares that she owns no property such as is described in the deed, and that if her name was used on the document, the property is fictitious and the signature is bogus.

The prisoner was recognized in the Tombs Police Court as a woman who has been welcomed in the homes of eminent residents of New York, Chicago and Toronto, and who has been much among wealthy Americans abroad. She was crazed with grief because of the position in which she found herself. Her examination occupied more than two hours because of hysteria, which culminated in six fainting spells.

The warrant for her arrest on a charge of forgery in the first degree was issued under the name of Clay Lawrence, and by this name she was known during the proceedings. Her case is linked with that of Wenham, who has been a prisoner in Ludlow Street Jail in default of $40,000 bail since last January. He is accused by the Canadian Pacific Railroad, of which he was formerly general traffic manager, with headquarters in Chicago, with embezzling from the company and from allied interests more than $120,000, although the specific sum named in a judgment obtained against him by the company is $54,473.

Wenham sought to secure his freedom a month ago on the plea that he was a resident of Chicago. In dismissing the plea Judge Lacombe in the United States Circuit Court gave the first hint of a mysterious woman in the case. The Judge said:

"He (the defendant) left his wife and child in Chicago, but that circumstance as establishing residence there is not especially persuasive because it appears that for several years the accused has traveled in this country and abroad with another woman, introducing her as his wife socially as well as to the tradespeople from whom they obtained food and lodging."

The forgery charge is based on an affidavit by John J. Jordan, a notary public of 48 Exchange place. He testified to Magistrate Wahle that Miss Lawrence called at his office on Feb. 15, and represented herself to be Mrs. Zailah E. Wenham. Posing as Wenham's wife, it is alleged that Miss Lawrence signed Mrs. Wenham's name to a quitclaim deed conveying to Jacob Franks property in Chicago worth $100,000.

When Miss Lawrence was arraigned before Magistrate Wahle, Lawyer Hess said that Miss Lawrence had been Wenham's companion for the last 13 years, regardless of the latter's wife, and that the couple had traveled all over the world together.

"Wenham wanted to get bail, and the only property he could hope to secure as surety was the $100,000 real estate owned by his wife," said Mr. Hess. "Wenham arranged with Miss Lawrence to impersonate Mrs. Wenham and to make the transfer."

The young woman was held for trial under $1500 bail. In a few minutes cash bail was furnished.

CHICAGO, May 9.—Miss Clay Lawrence is said to be the daughter of a clergyman and to have known the real Mrs. Wenham since she was a girl of 16. Since Wenham's ineffectual efforts to secure release on a writ of habeas corpus several weeks ago Miss Lawrence has been in close retirement in Hoboken. She claims to have been pursued by process servers every time they have her leave New Jersey and cross to New York that they might serve her with subpenas.

At her home, where she lives with her two children, a girl and a boy, 10 and 12 years old, respectively, Mrs. Wenham last night denied ever having heard of the Lawrence woman and ridiculed the statement of the attorney who secured her arrest in New York that she had been Wenham's companion for 13 years. She declares that her husband, who is an ex-banker and promoter of Chicago, is not involved in criminal proceedings with the Canadian Pacific Railway, though he is at present confined in the Ludlow Street Jail in New York in default of payment of a judgment against him in favor of that corporation.

SENATOR GORMAN CRITICALLY ILL

Senator A. P. Gorman.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Senator Arthur P. Gorman of Maryland is critically ill at his home in this city. He has not been in the Senate for many months. Within the last few days he had a severe sinking spell and his life was despaired of.

His sickness began several months ago with an attack of the grip, with every indication that it would culminate in pneumonia, but this was averted and it is now learned that he is suffering from a complication of ailments which give no promise of his recovery.

TRAIN SMASHES BREWERY WAGON

Driver Seriously Injured and Two Mules Killed at Crossing.

There was another serious accident at the grade crossing at the intersection of the Vandalia line and the Collinsville road, near East St. Louis, Wednesday afternoon, when an incoming fast mail train struck a beer wagon, driven by Henry Wedbring. Wedbring was hurled through the air and both mules attached to the wagon were killed.

The driver was picked up unconscious and carried to the Relay Depot on the train which struck him.

From there he was taken to St. Mary's Hospital where it was said he was internally injured.

This is the same crossing at which a train struck a trolley car loaded with fishermen a year ago and killed several men.

There have been many accidents at the crossing and farmers in the suburbs of East St. Louis have frequently asked that gates be installed and a watchman stationed there.

JOY! SUMMER IS COMING NOW

TOO BAD! THEY HAVE PUT THE CURFEW ON US POPCORN AND HOT TAMALE BOYS—NOTHING DOING AFTER NINE—

The back of the cold snap is broken, according to the Weather Bureau, and fair skies with more seasonable temperatures are in store for St. Louis. The official forecast Wednesday:

"Fair weather and rising temperature tonight and Thursday; variable winds, becoming southerly."

The cold wave has advanced rapidly southeast, causing general frosts in Missouri, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Eastern Kansas. The Weather Bureau says the lowest temperature reported in Missouri and Illinois was 33 degrees, and that the frost was not "killing" because the wind was high enough to prevent it from forming heavily.

West of the Rocky Mountains the temperature is rising. The storm central Tuesday over the St. Lawrence Valley has moved, accompanied by high winds, across the lake region, and has caused rains there and in the Ohio Valley and the Northeastern States.

The river Wednesday morning was 21.7 feet, a fall of seven-tenths of a foot in 24 hours.

BIG FRUIT FARMS SUFFER FROM FROST.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 9.—Frost last night did considerable damage to small fruits and early vegetables in Northwest Missouri and Northeast Kansas. The big fruit farms in the vicinity of Wathena, Kan., suffered greatly.

HEAVY FROST NIPS MISSOURI VEGETABLES.

SEDALIA, Mo., May 9.—There was a heavy frost here last night, the heaviest for many years at this time. All kinds of vegetables and small fruits were badly damaged, and it is thought two-thirds of the apples are killed.

FIERCE STORM SINKS VESSELS ON THE LAKES

Three Lives Lost in Going Down of Schooner Near Cleveland.

CAUGHT OUTSIDE HARBOR

STRIKE DISABLED SHIPS

Two-Masted Barge Founders Close to Shore at Colchester, Ont.

CLEVELAND, May 9.—The schooner Algeria sank about two miles off the harbor of Cleveland this morning and possibly three men lost their lives.

The schooner Iron Queen is in a sinking condition outside the breakwater and the crew of eight was taken off by the members of the life saving crew.

The storm of last night and today with the heavy sea it kicked up, was a menace to shipping outside the harbor.

The big steamers that had been tied up there by the strike came inside the breakwater, but the small schooners could not get in. Signals of distress came to the life saving station, and Capt. Motley of the life saving crew went out to the Iron Queen, rescuing the eight members of the crew with difficulty. They could not reach the Algeria, which went down about two miles out.

The schooner Algeria was of 2000 tons burden and was loaded with iron. She generally carried a crew of seven men. It is known that three or four of these men came ashore last night. It is believed that at least three went down with the schooner.

The schooner Iron Queen sprung a leak during the height of the storm, rapidly filled with water and is slowly sinking. The present storm is said by lake vesselmen to be the worst during the month of May in many years.

BARGE GOES DOWN, BUT CREW ESCAPES.

DETROIT, Mich., May 9.—A News special from Colchester, Ont., says a barge with two masts lies sunk off here, one-quarter of a mile from shore. The decks are under water, but there are evidences that the crew escaped.

WITNESS CALLS LAWYER ROBBER

Joseph Funk Pointed Out Attorney Defending Youth on Trial.

Joseph Funk of 1847 North Broadway, prosecuting witness in Judge Kinsey's court Wednesday, set the spectators and jurors in an uproar of laughter by declaring with an appearance of absolute sertitude that Attorney Samuel Kohn was one of two men who robbed him the night of April 1, near Tenth street and Lafayette avenue.

Gus Schultz of 1517 North Tenth street, 20 years old, was being tried for highway robbery, and Kohn was defending him. Funk said positively that Schultz was the man who choked him while another "frisked" him. Cross-examining Funk, Kohn asked:

"Are you sure you could identify the robber?"

"Certainly," said Funk.

"Aha, you could pick him out without difficulty, could you? Am I the man?"

Certain It Was Lawyer.

"Yes, I believe you are—durned if I ain't certain you are!"

"So I am the man who took the watch and chain out of your pocket while Schultz choked you?"

"Yes."

"And took the $1.50 out of your pocket?"

"Yes."

"And took the rings off your fingers?"

"Yes. You are certainly the man."

"Yes."

Judge Kinsey was smiling, the jurors were chortling and the spectators were in convulsions of guffaws.

"May it please the Court," said Kohn gravely, "I hope to be able to establish an alibi in this case."

Judge Kinsey laughed and dismissed the witness.

On a former occasion Kohn shaved off his mustache and tied a black silk handkerchief over the lower part of his face and that of John Schneider, his client, charged with burglary. The prosecuting witness picked Kohn as the burglar and Schneider was dismissed.

Fire Started on Porch.

A fire of unknown origin did slight damage to the porch of the residence of Mrs. Annie F. King, 4512 West Pine boulevard, Wednesday. The fire was discovered by Mrs. King, who detected the smell of burning wood and looked out to see one corner of the porch in flames. Painters who were working in the house were called in, but they were unable to extinguish the flames. The fire department confined the fire to the porch.

MRS. BLAINE TO ASK DIVORCE IN SOUTH DAKOTA

Second Wife of Famous Statesman's Son Will Allege Cruelty.

MARRIAGE WAS OPPOSED

At Height of Social Career She Wedded Despite Parents' Objections.

WAS WASHINGTON BELLE

Tells Reporter She Is Very Anxious to Sever Marital Ties.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Mrs. James G. Blaine, formerly Miss Martha Hichborn, the famous beauty of Washington, will leave this city on Saturday for Sioux Falls, S. D., for the purpose of obtaining a divorce from her husband, James G. Blaine.

It has long been known among Mrs. Blaine's most intimate friends that she contemplated such action, but it was only today that the announcement was authoritatively made.

"Yes, it is true that I am going to Sioux Falls to obtain a divorce. My friends have known it for some time, but it has been only within the past few days that I have made up my mind to go. I shall leave Washington Staurday with a companion. My mother's health is not sufficiently robust to permit her to go, and so I shall have the chaperonage of an old friend.

"I am not familiar with the divorce laws of South Dakota, and I cannot now say definitely on what grounds I shall ask for a final separation. I have consulted counsel in New York and my lawyers in South Dakota are now working on the case. I do not feel at liberty to give the name of the New York firm that has been attending to my affairs, and to be very truthful, I do not yet know what firm in the West is to take the case.

"I am very anxious to spend as short a while in the West as possible, for I hope to be with my parents for the summer in New London, Conn.

Wants Things "Unfixed."

"I cannot say anything more definite about my future or the details contemplated, because my lawyers have instructed me not to do so. There is one thing which I can say, however, and that is that I am not thinking of getting married. You know, one must always 'unfix' things before they can be fixed over, and that is my case exactly. Somehow that impression has gained ground, and I shall be so glad if you will say that my whole attention just now is fixed on getting 'unmarried' and not on getting married again.

"I do not know the situation in Sioux Falls—how long I shall have to remain there or just what difficulties I shall have to overcome when I do get there; but I shall go, and when I am once there I shall then be better able to tell just what I shall have to look forward to."

Few girls have been as popular in social Washington as Martha Hichborn. She was always in demand for dinners and entertainments because of her beauty and personal attractiveness. For several years it was understood that she was to be married to Brooke Baker, a prominent young clubman of Washington, but suddenly her engagement to James G. Blaine was announced and society was startled.

Lived Together Two Years.

It was said that Admiral and Mrs. Hichborn strenuously opposed the match, but in this, as in all other things, Miss Martha had her way and was married July 1, 1901. She lived more than two years with Mr. Blaine, and although there were many rumors that the pair lived unhappily, it was not until a little more than a year ago that Mrs. Blaine returned to her parents' home. A few months ago Mr. Baker married an actress, the former wife of Aubrey Boucicault.

Mrs. Blaine will apply for a divorce on the grounds of cruelty and desertion. This was learned this morning from a close friend of the Hichborn family.

James G. Blaine is well known in Washington. He is the son of the famous statesman and had been married before. His first wife was Marie Nevins of Ohio, who, after obtaining a divorce from him, married Dr. Bull of New York. Mr. Blaine served in the Spanish-American War, having been appointed an Adjutant-General on Gen. Wesley Merritt's staff. Soon after that he was ordered home and was discharged.

GIRL WHO WON FATHER'S PARDON BY KISSING GOVERNOR'S HAND

SHOULD HAVE FORGIVEN

Judge Ryan Believes Woman Did Not Tell All That Happened.

When a woman marries a reformed drunkard she should know how much he thirsts, according to Judge Ryan, who refused a divorce Wednesday to Mrs. Lucy E. Blackwood because she did not make enough allowance for the thirst of her husband, Samuel G. Blackwood, in the exuberance he felt following his marriage.

Blackwood is the man reformed at the City Mission on Seventh street, who backslid after his marriage and returned to the life of Market street, from which he had been rescued and rehabilitated through the interest and efforts of Superintendent Edward Card.

He had a lapse after he married a prepossessing widow, and the only explanation Mr. Card could get from him was "I have been married."

When Judge Ryan heard the case a few days ago Mr. Card, who was one of the witnesses, told of having received a letter from Chicago which stated that Blackwood had reformed again and was leading a sober and industrious life. Judge Ryan asked Mr. Card to bring him the letter and took the case under advisement. Wednesday he denied the divorce and handed down the following memoranda:

"The evidence showed the defendant had been a drunkard, but had reformed his habits at least several months before his marriage. He was accustomed to giving 'testimony' as to his reformation at the mission, where such unfortunates gather and are helped to a better life.

"That plaintiff knew all this was developed by testimony of one of her witnesses, and she partly admitted her knowledge when recalled to the stand, although in the first instance she undertook to leave the impression she had become acquainted with the defendant through meeting him at Centenary Church, and thought him a successful business man and a desirable husband. Her testimony was most unsatisfactory, and the Court is satisfied the entire truth was not revealed.

Lapse Only Temporary.

"The Court is convinced something not made known at the trial happened during the three days they lived together that led him to temporarily fall from grace, and for at least a few weeks thereafter to again drink and become degraded in his habits. His lapse was only temporary, as it is indicated by a letter stating that he is living a sober, industrious life in Chicago.

"Plaintiff flung him to one side as a thing to be despised, and never made the slightest effort to aid in his reformation or restore their marital relations after she knew he was living a decent life. For some reason she got rid of him quickly.

"The Court does not believe a woman should marry a drunkard on the theory she will reform him, but it does believe that when a woman marries a man who is, as she knows, a recently reformed drunkard, she should be more tolerant of a lapse than plaintiff has been, even if it was not due to any fault of her own.

"The charity of the friend or mere acquaintance would prompt to pity and forgiveness, for

" 'We ken how much one drinks,
We dinna ken how much one thirsts,'

GIRL'S KISSES MADE FATHER FREE

Gov. Folk Could Not Resist Fannie Oglander's Intense Appeal.

SHE WEPT ON HIS HANDS

There was happiness Wednesday in the home of Henry Oglander—a happiness that beamed from the faces of Oglander, his wife and his six children, and vibrated in their voices as they told of his release from the Penitentiary. Many neighbors called to offer congratulations, and all made much of Fannie Oglander, the 13-year-old girl who won her father's pardon by falling on her knees and kissing the Governor's hands as she pleaded with him.

The family returned Tuesday night from Jefferson City to their home, at 1127 North Fifteenth street, following the order of release issued by Gov. Folk. None of them speaks English plainly except Fannie, the oldest of the children, and that was why she was chosen to plead their case with Gov. Folk. Mrs. Oglander and the children were admitted to an audience Wednesday and stood by with clasped hands while the little girl walked up to the man who held Oglander's fate in his hands.

"Please, Governor, make my father free," the little girl began. And then, as she saw no softening in his features, she fell on her knees in an abandon of supplication and seized his hands, covering them with tears and kisses.

"We need him so much. He's not really guilty, Governor. He didn't mean to do wrong. Please, please let him go."

Girl's Sad Plea Wins.

Then the man who showed how pitiless he could be when he was prosecuting boodlers raised the little girl to her feet and told her that he father should be free.

"May the blessing of God rest upon him for a hundred years," said Oglander Wednesday with deep emotion. "He deserves to live in happiness always."

Oglander was sentenced April 1, 1905, to serve three years for receiving stolen property. He had served 13 months of the sentence when released. This is his account, given in broken English, of his offense:

"I was keeping a little grocery on Fourteenth street. A man ran in at 4 o'clock one afternoon and laid a bundle on the counter. 'May I leave this here a little while?' he askd. And I told him he could. I did not know what was in the bundle and di not open it.

"The next morning detectives came. They opened the bundle, and they said the gingham in it had been stolen. I told them how it had been left there, but they said I was guilty and arrested me. So it was shown that the gingham was stolen, and that it was left at my store, and I was sent to the penitentiary. The man who left it never came again. I do not know now who he was."

After Oglander was sent to the Penitentiary the family fell into straits, and would have suffered from hunger had not relatives assisted them. Mrs. Oglander found herself unable to support the six little ones. Fannie, who had been attending the Jefferson School, had to quit and became the mother of the other five while her mother did any work she could find. But since the husband and father has been restored to them, they believe all their troubles are at an end.

RECOUNT REVEALS DARING FRAUDS IN THE FOURTH WARD

Many Ballots Bearing the Same Numbers Are Found by the Clerks—Commissioners Summoned to Superintend the Work When Discrepancies Were Found.

GRAND JURY BEGINS AN INVESTIGATION

Utter Recklessness With Which Frauds Were Perpetrated Shows That Those Who Directed the Voting Never Believed That the Ballot Boxes Would Be Opened.

Examination of the amazing and audacious frauds disclosed by the recount of Fourth Ward ballot boxes in the mayoralty election of last year was continued Wednesday by the Board of Election Commissioners. Thomas K. Skinker, one of the members of the board, remained in the room where the recount was being recounted and viewed the accumulating evidences of crime.

As told exclusively in late editions of Tuesday's Post-Dispatch, the discoveries made by the clerks in the examination of the boxes from the First Precinct of the Fourth Ward were so far beyond anything for which the recount force was prepared that the surprised clerks suspended work until the commissioners could be summoned by telephone.

Utter recklessness on the part of those who directed the voting in the precinct was shown by comparison of the ballots with the pollbooks. In the apparent belief that the boxes would never be opened, the most palpable crookedness had been committed.

The chief form of fraud is said to have been the casting of two or more ballots bearing the same number. Thus, while only one name would appear in the pollbook, opposite No. 1, two or three ballots bearing that number would be found in the box, all for the same candidates.

Ward Workers Scared.

When the count was suspended and the commissioners summoned, the news quickly spread from the secrecy of the recount room to a group of politicians waiting in the outer office. As the ward workers learned of the discoveries within, there was excitement, which in some instances approached consternation.

It is anticipated that the ballot boxes of this precinct and of any others which are found to contain similar evidences of fraud will be laid before the grand jury.

The grand jury began Wednesday an investigation of alleged fraud at last Thursday's precinct registration. The case of Luke Connelly was the first investigated. He is charged with registering in both the First and Second precincts of the Fourteenth Ward. His defense is that he recently moved from one precinct to the other, and registered in both to make sure of not losing his vote.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB SCORES HERPEL

Pamphlet Says Arrests Were Made "For What It Was Worth."

Members of the Automobile Club of St. Louis received prettily printed pamphlets Wednesday giving the history of the organization and devoting several pages to a scorching arraignment of Sheriff Herpel of St. Louis County and his automobile deputies. The statement is made that Sheriff Herpel and his men made the numerous recent arrests of speed law violators "for what it was worth."

"The first day every machine was stopped," says the pamphlet, which was written and issued by A. B. Lambert, president of the club. "The occupants were hauled to Clayton for the amusement of a drunken gang and the personal edification of the Sheriff."

The club, it is stated, issued this warning to its members

"If you run your automobiles over nine miles an hour on the roads of St. Louis County, you are liable to be held up by rather suspicious-looking individuals, with long revolvers pointed in your face. You are then arrested and released on a $200 bond."

Mr. Lambert said Wednesday that the action of the deputies was outrageous, and that his reason for commenting on them in the pamphlet was to let every member know exactly what had happened.

"I think it will go hard with them," he said, referring to the deputies.

HAUL CAR A MILE AWAY

Rifle Registered Letters and Escape Into Hills—Passengers Unmolested.

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 9.—The Imperial Limited was halted on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway near Kamloops, 250 miles from here, early today. The robbers compelled the engineer to uncouple the mail car from the rest of the train and haul it a mile away, where they rifled it of the registered letters.

The robbers were under the impression that the express packages were in the mail car, but when they found that the express was in another car they had not nerve enough to go back for it and slipped away into the hills.

The robbery occurred near a small station called Furrer, between Kamloops and Ducks. Special officers have been sent up from Vancouver to pursue the robbers. The bandits made no attempt to interfere with the passengers.

Attorney-Geenral Moody Announces Action Against Medicine Combine.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The Attorney-General today made public the following statement:

"The Government today has filed in the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Indiana, a petition for an injunction against certain associations, corporations and individuals, composing what is commonly known as the 'Drug Trust of the United States.'

"The parties defendant specifically named in the bill have voluntarily combined together to control the prices at which proprietary medicines and drugs shall be sold to the consumer through the retail druggists in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

"The parties to the combination include the Proprietary Association of America, the National Wholesale Druggists' Association and the National Association of Retail Druggists."

HOUSE ADOPTS MEASURE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 9.—The House of Representatives of the Illinois General Assembly, sitting in special session to pass a primary bill, yesterday gave a third reading and prepared for passage a primary bill which will probably be passed and sent to the Senate today.

The bill passed was an administration measure, the insurgent Republicans and Democrats not developing sufficient strength to oppose successfully.

On the question whether county officers should be nominated by plurality vote at the primaries or whether a majority should be exacted, a riotous scene occurred in the House. An amendment presented by Representative Allen carried the provision for a plurality vote at the primaries. On the viva voce vote, Acting Speaker Shanahan declared the Allen amendment defeated.

The Democrats and insurgents questioning the ruling rose in a body, shouting "roll call, roll call," massing the vacant space in front of the Speaker's desk, waving their arms and shaking their fists.

"That is usurpation," shouted Allen, "and no man who will make such a ruling is worthy to occupy the Speaker's chair."

Then one member threw a heavy book, a House journal, at close range, at the Speaker. The Speaker dodged the missile and it struck his chair.

"There'll be no more business in this House today until we have a roll call," shouted Representative Allen above the din.

"It seems," said Speaker Shanahan, at last, when his gavel failed to restore quiet, "that five persons want a roll call. The clerk will call the roll."

The call showed the vote 68 to 69 against the Democrats.

Bill Passes House.

The bill, which has been under consideration practically since April 10 last, failed to receive the two-thirds vote necessary to pass it with an emergency clause.

Another vote was ordered immediately, with the emergency clause stricken out and the primary bill was passed by the House by a vote of 84 to 56.

The Senate is expected to pass the bill at once and then the special session will be concluded.

BILLBOARD LAW IN COURT.

City Officials and Companies in Controversy.

City officials and billboard companies are quarreling over the ordinance regulating the height and location of billboards and the controversy will probably be taken to the courts. The companies hold that the ordinance is unnecessarily severe.

Work on the construction of a number of billboards was stopped Tuesday in compliance with orders issued by Building Commissioner Smith. Among them was that at the old Round Top Market site at Broadway and O'Fallon street. The company building this board holds that the restriction requiring billboards to be placed 15 feet back from the sidewalk destroys the value of the site. Other boards interfered with were those at 617 Elm street, 1323 and 1723 Washington avenue. At the latter place the men refused to stop work until ordered to do so by their employers.

HAS HUSBAND ENJOINED.

Alleging intoxication, Mrs. Mathilda Keller of Belleville filed suit for a divorce from her husband, John Keller, to whom she was married Oct. 28, 1887. They have seven children, ranging in age from 14 months to 16 years.

Mrs. Keller also asked for an injunction to restrain her husband from ejecting her and her children from the home as he has threatened. The injunction was granted.

COUNCILMEN PLAN TO BLOCK MAYOR

Republicans and Disgruntled Democrats Hope to Stop His Appointments.

That a majority of the members of the City Council are hostile to the Mayor, and that when six new members are elected next spring there will be a Republican majority in the Council, making Mayor Wells absolutely powerless in the matter of appointments, is the opinion of present members of the upper branch.

There has been trouble between the Mayor and the Council for some time. Councilmen have discovered that it was hard to get appointments for constituents and believing the Mayor the cause, they resolved to bring him around.

The Mayor appointed Dr. Harry McV. Johnson to succeed Dr. H. Wheeler Bond, the new Health Commissioner, as member of the Board of Health. It was referred to the Council Committee on Sanitary Affairs two weeks and a half ago.

Ban on Political Pulls.

The committee took no action on the appointment. The members said they had never met Dr. Johnson.

Tuesday afternoon the members of the Council and of the House learned that the Health Commissioner and the Street Commissioner had both been instructed to see that no more appointments were made in their departments through political pulls. These departments are popular with members of the Assembly in satisfying constituents.

The Committee on Sanitary Affairs, consisting of Rolfes, Linde and Marks, after a conference with other members of the Council, it is said, agreed to report the appointment of Dr. Johnson adversely.

Nine members of the Council, it is said, are in favor of the adverse report and four against.

The Republican members say this is an indication of what is going to happen next spring when the Mayor has about 30 of his most important appointments to make. They are confident of electing at least half of the six new Councilmen in the spring, giving them an 8 to 5 majority.

DIRECTORY HAS HIM DEAD

But Constable Tells Coroner He's Still Alive.

George Gershon, clerk and constable in the Coroner's office, says he is not dead, and yet Deputy Coroner Lloyd is preparing to hold an inquest on him. Lloyd bases his idea that an inquest is due on one line in the new City Directory. That line, copied verbatim, reads:

"Gershon Sarah wid George r 3834 Cook av."

That address is Constable Gershon's. His wife's name is Sarah. No other Sarah Gershon lives at that address. Could better evidence be had that Gershon is a dead one?

As no death certificate has been issued, Deputy Coroner Lloyd says it is clearly a case for an official investigation.

"We must determine the cause of death," argues Lloyd.

"Go ahead with your inquest," says Gershon, "and I will gladly appear as a witness. But I will not stand for any of these post-mortem examinations. I understand they are usually seriously fatal—that they are much worse than an operation for appendicitis. Hold all the inquests you please, but omit the autopsy feature. I insist that the report of my death is inadequate, grossly extravagant, exaggerated and unworthy of credence."

"But it is in the book," says Lloyd, "and how do you get around that? Officially you are as dead as Julius Cesar."

St. Paul Editor Dead.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 9.—Joseph A. Wheelock, editor-in-chief of the Pioneer Press, died at his home, 421 Summit avenue, in this city, at 9 o'clock today. He had been in ill health for several years and had returned but two days ago from California, where he had spent the winter. Mr. Wheelock was born in Nova Scotia in 1831 and came to St. Paul in 1850.

UNDERTAKERS BAR BURIAL COMBINE

Easy Payment Associations Declared to Be Contrary to Ethics.

"Join our burial association and we will bury your children free," reads the literature of some of the undertakers doing business in Missouri. The bury-your-children-free undertakers were put under the ban at Wednesday's meeting of the Missouri Funeral Directors' Association at Furniture Exposition Hall, Fourteenth and Locust streets. In fact, all burial associations have been barred.

According to the undertakers' code of ethics it is unprofessional to solicit business—offer inducements to prospective customers. The burial associations have cared little for ethics, but have made it a point to solicit as much business as possible.

As a direct blow at the undertakers who carry on co-operative burial associations on the dollar-down-and-dollar-a-month plan, the association unanimously voted to expel any member who continues to run such association two years from date. A paper on "Burial Associations," read by August Lohmeyer of Springfield, started the ball rolling. On motion of William Raymond of Springfield the resolution was introduced and passed.

"The burial associations by their grasping ways, cut in on the business of legitimate undertakers," explained Mr. Lohmeyer. "These associations have even gone so far as to offer free burial for children of parents who are members. This resolution is quite a blow to these associations."

Prof. Hohenschuh of Iowa University demonstrated scientific embalming before the association in the morning.

PRIMARIES ON IN TENTH DISTRICT

The Republican primary election in the Tenth Congressional District was held Wednesday afternoon. The polls opened at 1 p. m., and will close at 8.

Congressman Richard Bartholdt, who returned from Washington to look after his political fences in the Tenth, which he has represented in Congress for 12 years, said that he expected to be renominated without opposition, although he has an opponent in Ben Westhus, former Collector of Internal Revenue.

Westhus says he is going to surprise Bartholdt. Bartholdt smiles at this declaration of confidence.

Ever since Congressman Bartholdt induced Speaker Cannon of the House of Representatives to indorse him as a "loyal servant of the people" the Bartholdt bosom has been swelled with more or less pardonable pride.

But Bartholdt's opponents are always after his political scalp—that is, on primary election day. When the convention is held the good doctor is usually nominated by acclamation. The Democrats merely put up a candidate in the Tenth as a matter of form.

In the election two years ago Bartholdt was elected by a plurality of 12,983. In 1902 he defeated Richard T. Blow, who was considered an especially formidable candidate, by a majority of 6200 votes.

The Tenth District covers more than one-half the total area of St. Louis and in round numbers has a population of 300,000. It contains the extreme northern, western and southern wards of the city, and all of St. Louis County.

WIFE TRADER IS HELD UNDER BOND

TRIAL ROOM IS CROWDED

Mrs. Jackman, With Baby, Attends Hearing Before Pana Justice.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PANA, Ill., May 9.—Six hundred persons were present in court this morning when T. M. Mosby, the Shelby County farmer who traded wives with Fred L. Jackman of St. Louis, was bound over to the Circuit Court under bond of $500. Mrs. Jackman, the elderly woman who became Mosby's common-law wife under the contracts of separation and divorce, was present, holding in her arms the youngest of the five children she took to him by the terms of the trade.

Justice W. H. Springstun, a brother of Assistant State's Attorney Springstun, presided. The case was tried in his office in the City Hall, and the crowd was so great that, after packing the large room, it overflowed and formed dense throngs about the windows.

Attorney Would Withdraw.

Attorney E. F. O'Farrel of the firm of Humphreys & O'Farrel, who drew up the remarkable contracts, was present to defend Mosby. After he had been refused an application for change of venue, he announced that he and Humphreys wanted to withdraw from the case. Justice Springstun told them they could not do so.

"Go ahead and railroad the man to the Penitentiary," cried Humphreys. "I see that is what you have started to do."

"I don't intend to have any bluffing here," retorted Justice Springstun. "You will act as counsel for the defendant."

The four contracts were introduced in evidence, by which Mosby and Jackman bound themselves to release all claim on their legal wives and enter into common-law relations with one another's wives.

Jackman and Mrs. Mosby were not present. They are still in St. Louis. By the contract Mrs. Mosby took her 1-year-old baby. Jackman is 45 years old and Mrs. Mosby 20. Mosby is 30 and Mrs. Jackman 40. Mrs. Jackman continues to live on Mosby's farm in Shelby County, four miles from Tower Hill. Tower Hill is seven miles from Pana and 100 miles east of St. Louis.

A flat in Chouteau place, at 4049 and 4049A and 4051 and 4051A Kennell avenue, with lot, for $7250.

A residence lot, fronting Reservoir Park, and being a half block east of Grand avenue, on the south side of Russell avenue, covered with two-story brick buildings, arranged as a store, for $7000.

Also sold a lot at 5051 Ridge avenue, improved with a residence of 7 rooms and bath, furnace, and all modern conveniences.

WORKHOUSE FOR WOMEN.

"Green-Eyed Burglar" and Companion Pleaded Guilty.

Minnie Dill, or Berwanger, the "green-eyed burglar," and her giggling companion, Mabel Dill, will serve three months each in the Workhouse on their plea of guilty to a charge of stealing from the home of Charles L. Patterson, 716 North Garrison avenue.

There were seven charges against the girls, but they were arraigned on but one. The prosecuting officials say they will probably not be tried on the other charges.

BOY FAINTS IN ELEVATOR WHEN MAN IS KILLED

SCREAMS CAUSE PANIC

Passenger, Attacked by Vertigo, Fell, and Head Was Crushed.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Shrieks startled the diners in the Hotel Victoria, Fifth avenue and Twenty-seventh street, last night. Patrons, clerks, telephone girls, all who heard, rushed toward the elevator and saw the car slowly descending. It came to a stop of itself.

The crowd peered through the grills and saw in the car a man standing stock still, speechless with fright and consternation. In the furthest corner was huddled the limp body of the elevator boy. On the floor lay a man, stretched full length, face downward.

Dr. S. W. Smith, the house physician, and Dr. A. H. Hilsman, who lives in the hotel, pushed their way through the crowd and a porter opened the gate and let them into the car. They found the prostrate man dead, while the elevator boy, Thomas Fitzgibbons, had fainted after screaming the alarm which had so horrified the hotel patrons. The car was run upstairs, where its third occupant, Frederick D. Savage, who lived at the Murray Hill Hotel, told his story, while the mystified people below wondered what kind of a tragedy had been enacted.

He said that the dead man was an old friend, Charles N. Grover of the Mechanic's Insurance Co. of Philadelphia. Savage and Grover had just had an early dinner together at the Murray Hill and had returned to the Victoria to have a business chat in Grover's room on the third floor. They had not been drinking.

Elevator Boy Faints.

As the elevator was carrying them up, Savage said, he saw his friend lurch forward like a man seized with vertigo, and fall headlong on the floor of the swiftly moving car, so that his head just touched the wall of the elevator shaft. Before the boy could act the car had brought Grover's head against the projection of the third floor, which comes out a few inches to meet the car floor. It was as if the head were in the jaws of a huge nut-cracker. Instantly the car began to descend. Fitzgibbons, overcome with fright, let go the lever, shrieked, cowered into the corner and fainted.

The elevator boy, on recovering his senses, was found to be in a State so near insanity that he was bundled off to the New York Hospital in an ambulance that had been called when Grover was thought to be alive. Fitzgibbons will need a long rest, it was said, to recover his nerves.

Two detectives sent to the Victoria Hotel to arrest Fitzgibbons encountered Coroner Shrady, who told them to let the young man alone. He said he had found Fitzgibbon in such a state that he believes his arrest would kill him.

HAD PEACH OF A LOAD.

But Policeman With Lilacs Will Escape Board.

It was a peach of a load that Patrolman McCollin, all in his blue uniform and brass buttons, carried from Twenty-second and Division street to the Dayton street station Wednesday. He staggered under his burden and his arrival at the station caused the eyes of Capt. Gaffney to bulge.

But there will be no charges against the policeman. His peach of a load was collected in the performance of duty. And he wasn't on a "lid" assignment, either.

McCollin is smooth-faced normally, but he had a little bunch of lilacs when he showed up at the station.

Near the corner of Twenty-second and Division street the policeman met an excited man who called his attention to two boys who were running down the street.

"They stole them," he cried. McCollin pursued the boys, who dropped what they had been carrying and ran across a vacant lot.

McCollin gathered up the loot. There were 11 young trees labeled "Maiden Blush Peaches," 10 saplings marked "Ben Davis Apples" and one lilac bush. The boys got away, but the trees are at the station awaiting an owner. If they are not claimed, they will be set out in some nice little holes which the gas company recently made in front of the station house.

HERE'S SOME USEFUL MISINFORMATION ON A POLICEMAN'S DUTY

Probationaries Who Furnished It in Reply to Board's Questions Dropped From Force, While Comrades Who Answered Correctly Are Promoted.

Dramatis personae—Members of the Board of Police Commissioners, members of the police examining board and 32 probationary patrolmen, applicants for promotion to the rank of patrolman.

Enter Maj. Lally, Inspector of the Police Department and member of the examining board.

Major to applicants: Gentlemen, please write the report which I will now dictate. (Reading) "Sergt. Johnson, sir: William Morgan has opened a dramshop at 1357 Chouteau avenue. He has a State and city license."

Applicants bend over their tables, put pencils to their tongues and labor at writing.

One of the results: "Sargent Johnson—Sir—Willium Morgan has opened a dram shop at 1357 Shoto avenoo. He has a stait and sity licents."

Always Be a Gentleman.

Chief (Reading from the manual): What is a policeman?

Probationary: A person duly appointed and sworn to enforce—let me see—a policeman is a man that—a policeman—I used to know what a policeman was, but it has slipped my memory.

Chief: In the event of a great crime being committed or other casualty occurring on his beat, how should a policeman act?

Probationary: A policeman should act as a gentleman at all times and under all circumstances.

Chief: What is the duty of a policeman when he discoveres a fire? Should he try to save the inmates of the house?

Chief, to next probationary: What do you say about that?

Probationary: In case of fire a policeman should find out the amount of insurance, if there is any, and the name of the insurance company.

Chief: What is the duty of a policeman with regard to insane persons?

Probationary: If the child can tell its name and address, it should be taken home. Otherwise it should be taken to the station and properly cared for.

Chief: Has a policeman a right to arrest a person on suspicion?

Some for Mr. Webster.

Chief: What constitutes assault to kill?

Probationary: A man that will use a weapon that shoots or cuts.

Chief: What is grand larceny?

Probationary: An assemblage of persons intent upon and mutually agreed by force and violence to perform unlawful acts against the persons or property of others, or against the peace, or to the terror of the people.

Chief: What is petit larceny?

Probationary: The same as grand larceny, only it must be under $30.

Chief: What is burglary?

INSURANCE A VAST DRAIN FROM STATE

Of $30,536,302 Premiums, Less Than $2,000,000 Remained in Missouri.

Reports have been received by the State Insurance Department at Jefferson City of the business transacted in Missouri during 1905 by all insurance companies, numbering 378.

Of the $30,536,302.18 paid by Missouri policy holders to insurance companies in 1905, $28,693,531.61 went to companies outside of Missouri.

The total paid to policy holders was $12,934,698.33, showing a difference in favor of the companies of $17,601,603.85.

Of the total premiums paid by policy holders, $15,268,222.41 was for life insurance, and $8,525,730.69 for fire insurance, the balance being for miscellaneous insurance.

Premiums to the amount of $24,527-752.21 were returned by fire and marine, mutual fire, miscellaneous stock, regular life and stipulated premium life insurance companies in 1905.

TO REARREST PRISONER.

Man at Leavenworth Accused of St. Louis Forgery.

Albert E. Bell, accused of forging a draft on the National Bank of Commerce of St. Louis, will be arrested on his release Thursday from the Federal Prison at Leavenworth, Kan.

Postoffice Inspector E. F. Martin obtained a requisition Wednesday from Gov. Folk on Gov. Hoch of Kansas for Bell. He is wanted in Kansas City, Mo., it being charged that he deposited a worthless draft for $550 in a Kansas City bank on the St. Louis bank, and drew the money before the forgery was detected.

MAN AND MONEY GONE.

Woman Left Visitor While She Sought Husband.

A well-dressed man went to the residence of John Schnuer at 1233 South Seventh street Tuesday afternoon and asked to see Mr. Schnuer, who was not at home. He returned at 7:45 p. m. and again Mr. Schnuer was out. Mrs. Schnuer left the stranger, who said he knew her husband well, in the parlor while she sought Mr. Schnuer. When she returned the stranger was gone. The sideboard had been ransacked and $9.50 and various articles of jewelry were taken. The man was about 30 years old, smooth shaven, 5 feet 7 inches high and weighed about 150 pounds.

Miss Caroline Wiggins, who lives with her father at the Beresford Hotel, 4143 Lindell boulevard, has reported to the police the loss of a diamond ring valued at $160. It was stolen, she thinks, Tuesday night.

Chris Muckerman of 3917 Blair avenue has reported the loss of $15 and jewelry worth $90 from his home. The valuables were taken by a burglar who used a duplicate key to gain entrance to the house while the family was away.

Capital Stock Increased.

Secretary of State Swanger has received notice of an increase in the capital stock of the Doe Run Lead Co. of St. Louis and Bonne Terre, from $4,000,000 to $10,000,000. Assets are given as $10,902,301.59 and the liabilities, $185,190.99.

HONGKONG, May 9.—The Viceroy of Canton has paid to the American Consul at Canton, Julius G. Lay, the sum of $60,000 as indemnity for the mission buildings, the personal property of the missionaries and the claims of converts as a result of the destruction of property during the rioting at Lienchow in October last.

The money will be transferred to the Presbyterian mission settlement at Lienchow.

SAW KNIFE AND RAN.

Man Recovered Senses When Policeman Experimented.

Morris Shatz of 1012 Chestnut street was found unconscious at 10 p. m. in North Ninth street by Policeman Tomasso. Shatz was taken to the City Dispensary, still unconscious. Tomasso believed that the man was shamming, so he took a huge butcher knife, whetted it ostentatiously in the presence of the patient and then announced his intention of cutting Shatz open to see what was wrong.

Shatz jumped from the cot and ran down the street, with Tomasso in pursuit. Tomasso captured his man, who said that Kappel had pushed him, and Tomasso arrested the restaurant proprietor. Both were discharged in the Dayton Street Police Court Wednesday.

Carondelet Improvement.

Plans for the North American Co. to spend $12,000,000 in building a power house and manufacturing plant in Carondelet and deepening and widening the River des Peres so that barges may be floated to the plant were told by C. Fardwell, Sewer Commissioner, spoke of the necessity of a way to prevent overflows of the river.

BULLET KILLS GIRL STUDENT; DUEL RUMORED

ACCIDENT, FRIENDS SAY

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

VERMILION, S. D., May 9.—Miss Lilian Young, daughter of State Senator Warren S. Young, and a student at the State University here, is dead of a bullet wound inflicted by a girl student, Miss Hazel Lotze, daughter of C. E. Lotze of Vermilion.

Various explanations have been made of the shooting, which took place in dense woods on the opposite side of the Missouri River. One persistent report is that the two young women fought a duel to settle differences in a love affair. Another was that Miss Young committed suicide, while the most probable version is that she was shot unintentionally by Miss Lotze while firing at a target.

The four students who were present at the time insist that the shooting was accidental. This is the view taken by the university authorities and probably there will be no further investigation. However, there are those who continue to hold different beliefs.

The geological class of the South Dakota University, numbering about forty students, in charge of Prof. E. C. Perisho, dean of the Department of Geology, had journeyed across the Missouri River to Nebraska to study geological formations. At noon the party pitched camp, while a half dozen others strolled off some distance.

After a time there were pistol shots and then a scream. Miss Young was found on the ground with a bullet in her side. She was hurriedly taken to Vermilion and sent by train to Sioux City, where an operations was performed in the vain hope of saving the young woman's life.

BAXTER BROUGHT HERE.

Safe-Blower to Be Held Till Trial Comes Up.

Frank Baxter, who admits he is a safeblower, was brought to St. Louis Wednesday by Sheriff Gober of Scott County, to be held for safekeeping until his trial at Benton on the charge of robbing a store and Postoffice at Blodgett, Mo. Baxter was one of the four prisoners released from the Benton Jail a month ago, when friends on the outside used dynamite to burst open doors.

Baxter was arrested later near Elboro in company with Dave Williams and Abe Conover on suspicion of having blown open a safe at Ste. Genevieve. The evidence against them was meager, so they were sentenced to 60 days in Jail on a charge of vagrancy. Williams and Conover are now serving that sentence in Benton.

PARDON FOR BOODLERS.

Three Will Probably Be Released Next Year.

Emil Hartmann, who was sentenced to serve six years in the Penitentiary for boodling, may be released at the same time Julius Lehmann and Harry Faulkner are set free. Faulkner's term expires in July, 1907, and it is said Gov. Folk intends to commute the other sentences so that they will expire at the same time. Hartmann and Lehmann will then have served longer than any of the other boodlers, four of whom are already free.

Lehmann's sentence was the longest imposed in connection with the Suburban and lighting deals, and Hartmann's next. Gov. Folk has taken no action in regard to any of the cases, but he is expected to make his decision known next week, when he announces the decision regarding the Lehmann petition, presented by Miss Lulu Lehmann, a daughter, signed with 10,000 names.

Wife Was Forgiving.

On testimony that Herman Bloominghoff of 827 South Seventh street, although ordinarily he converses only in German, cursed his wife fluently and vigorously in English, Judge Tracy fined him $25 and costs in the City Hall Police Court Wednesday. Mrs. Bloominghoff, who caused her husband's arrest, denied that he had cursed or abused her. She said the bruise on her left eye was caused by falling against a chair, and not by a blow. Judge Tracy ordered him out of the courtroom.

The brokers hope to bring the matter to the attention of the Supreme Court by a writ of certiorari.

STIR IN SHOE WORLD

A Smart Shoe Worker Has Invented a New and Improved Method of Shoe Construction.

CALLED "H. J." METHOD.

Said to Be Revolutionizing the Shoe Industry, as Its Advantages Are Apparent at a Glance, and Fills a Long-Felt Want.

PETERS SHOE CO. LEADS.

One of the world's biggest industries, aggregating $450,000,000 annually, is experiencing a revolution in its method of making shoes. After spending a quarter of a century in a shoe factory and experimenting much of this time, Mr. H. Jenney, of New Bedford, has accomplished, as has been learned by our correspondent, what was considered impossible, by producing an absolutely flat, smooth seam just below the instep, in place of a "bunch" or "ridge" of leather caused by the old overlapping process.

The new patented method is called "The H. J. Method," after its inventor, and is leased to manufacturers. A leading shoe expert says:

"As a shoe expert of many years' experience, I can safely say that within the last decade there has been made no improvement in shoes which deserves the interest and consideration of shoe manufacturers more than that of H. Jenney, better known as the 'H. J.' hinged vamps, as applied to lace shoes of all kinds. The full value of this apparently small invention can never be fully realized until a pair of shoes made in the 'H. J.' way are worn on the feet.

"Everyone knows, but no one so well as the person whose feet are thin and bony, that along the tops of them they are remarkably sensitive to any harsh treatment. It is also just as well known that lace shoes made in the old manner have a hard spot, as well as a lump at the instep-seam where the vamp is lapped onto the quarter, at the lower end of the tongue. This is because there are also many thicknesses of leather piled on top of one another, the result of which is a lump of torture for that sensitive part of the foot if the shoes are anywhere near to being a fit."

With their usual enterprise the Peters Shoe Co. of St. Louis were quick to recognize this improvement, and are now making all their fine lace shoes the "H. J." no-bunch way. If you want to experience genuine foot comfort ask your dealer to obtain for you a pair of these now famous "H. J." shoes.

PEUGNET MAKES MORE CHARGES

He Files Amended Divorce Petition, Making Specific Accusations.

GIVES VARIOUS DATES

Specific charges are made by Capt. Ernest Peugnet of 4245 Lindell boulevard against his young wife, Alexina Louisa Peugnet, in an amended petition filed in Judge Foster's court. He says she has visited improper places and associated on terms of great familiarity with men other than her husband and has dined with them in their own apartments. He gives specific dates.

During the summer of 1905 he says she not only associated with other men at Put-in-Bay, O., but went with them from that place to other places on various occasions.

Late in that summer, according to the petition, Mrs. Peugnet went East with a man or men, traveling from place to place, and at Boston she put up at a hotel with a man unknown to the plaintiff.

Capt. Peugnet says that on or about Dec. 1, last, while he was absent from the city, his wife left her home three times and dined alone with a man in his apartments. He states that Jan. 16 she met a man in the evening, that they went to Union Station in a carriage and that she took a train for Chicago, where she remained for several days, concealing her place of abode from her husband by giving him the wrong address.

The plaintiff alleges that on Feb. 7 he found her in the company of another man. He also alleges that she spoke and wrote contemptuously of her husband, and that since the filing of the suit for divorce she "has circulated false reports concerning her relations with a deceased son of the plaintiff, causing the plaintiff great sorrow."

Capt. Peugnet filed his suit for divorce Feb. 19. Mrs. Peugnet at first said she would not fight the case, but later changed her mind and filed an answer making a general denial.

The couple were married March 14, 1901. Their separation occurred Feb. 7, 1906. Mrs. Peugnet was a stenographer at the Boatman's Bank before her marriage. She is very much younger than her husband.

"The College Inn."

The march of progress in the business district is not confined to the large department stores. A company is now fitting up in an original, elegant and up-to-date manner the entire basement of the Equitable Building, Sixth and Locust streets, as a select restaurant for ladies and gentlemen, to be called "The College Inn." Business will be conducted on the same lines as the celebrated place of this name under the Sherman House in Chicago. Announcement of the opening will be made as soon as the alterations and equipment is completed.

Memorial to Spencer.

The Board of Directors of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Co. have adopted a memorial to the late Corwin H. Spencer, who was first vice-president of the company, a member of the executive committee and chairman of the committee on finance.

City Cow With Twin Calves Proudly Poses for Photograph

"Rose" Is Really Flattered When Visitors Come to Illinois Avenue Lot.

Neighbors of Mrs. Herman Gidionsen of 3122 Illinois avenue flock daily to her home to see the twin calves born Friday to her cow, "Rose." In the rare event of twins being born to a cow one almost invariably dies; but the children of "Rose" are lusty and large, and apparently find distinct pleasure in cutting antics and running about the lot back of her home when visitors are present.

"Rose" tries to be modest about it, but her efforts to conceal her jubilation are more comical than convincing. When a Post-Dispatch photographer went to the place to take a picture of the family, "Rose" posed self-consciously, quite unable to hide her pardonable maternal pride.

The larger of the calves, who has been named "Jack" by Mrs. Gidionsen's children, bashfully thrust his head into a capacious water bucket and pretended to quench his thirst. "Joe," the smaller, was hungry, and proceeded to get his dinner.

"Rose" has had children twice before. She was as jealous of them and as solicitous for their welfare as cow mothers always are, but, with the last acquisition to her family, she has passed all bounds in fussiness.

She Is Really Flattered.

She pretends to be furious if strangers go close to her offspring and pet them, while in reality she is vastly flattered. On unusual occasions during the day when the lot is empty of visitors, "Rose" is the picture of dejection.

"Jack" and "Joe" manifestly don't know what all the excitement is about, but they enjoy the attention they attract, nevertheless. There is a commendable lack of jealousy between them.

The only one prouder than "Rose" is Tom Carrol, her keeper, whose joy, when it became known that both calves would live, knew no limits. He spends most of every day in the lot, and talks to his wards as if they were human. Every delicacy known to the cow-and-calf menu is provided.

Mrs. Gidionsen is anxiously waiting to hear from President Roosevelt.

BOARD OF TRADE SUSPENDS LEITER

Complaint That Millionaire Mine Owner Failed to Pay Brokerage Charges.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, May 9.—Joseph Leiter today was suspended from the Board of Trade for alleged violation of board rules on complaint that he failed to pay certain brokerage charges. The millionaire mine owner, when informed of the fact that a notice was posted on the board at the opening of business today, expressed surprise at the action.

"I have not paid much attention to the Board of Trade for a long time," said Mr. Leiter. "I received a communication recently in which it was suggested that I take up an old transaction, but of course I did not expect summary action."

ROSE RE-ELECTED TO MAYORALTY

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 9.—William W. Rose was re-elected Mayor of Kansas City, Kan., at the election yesterday by 1600 plurality over E. E. Venard, Republican, and David Harris, Socialist.

Rose resigned the office of Mayor of Kansas City, Kan., recently, while ouster proceedings were pending against him for nonenforcement of the antiliquor laws, and was later ousted by the Supreme Court, which disregarded his resignation.

The issue of the election was the enforcement of the prohibition and antigambling laws. Rose was supported by the element which believes that the best interests of the city demand the licensing of joints and gambling halls, as they maintain that a strict enforcement of the law against such places deprives the city of its necessary revenue. E. E. Venard, who had been acting Mayor since Rose resigned, was supported by the temperance people. Many women voted and most of them supported Venard.

The question of Rose's right to hold the office as Mayor will now be tested. The Supreme Court held that its action in ousting Rose rendered him ineligible to be a candidate for office again at this time. Rose contends that as he had resigned before the Supreme Court acted in his case, the ouster proceedings against him were ineffective.

REFUSES WAGES TRUSTS IN LORD

Baptist Pastor Says Prayers Will Maintain in the Future.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., May 9.—John B. Klingberg, pastor of the Swedish Baptist Church for the past six years, notified his parishioners last evening that he would refuse to accept his salary of $800 and would trust in the Lord for his maintenance in the future.

Mr. Klingberg is superintendent of the Orphans' Home, which is supported by charitable contributions and manages to care for a number of children. These contributions are not solicited, the superintendent relying on prayer for the success of the institution.

Mr. Klingberg is 36 years old and has a wife and four children. He will devote all his time to the Orphans' Home. He says: "I want to be an example for my fellow workers at the home in trusting in the Lord."

Mr. Klingberg is a native of Chicago.

LEAGUE MEN WON.

Good Government Organization Successful in County.

The Good Government League of St. Louis County is receiving felicitations on its success in the recent election. Although the league candidates for Sheriff and Prosecuting Attorney were defeated, eight other candidates it indorsed won. These are:

Fred L. Ferth, collector; Gust A. Wurdemann, probate judge; John Ruhl, county clerk; H. H. Hackman, treasurer; Dr. Rolla Bracy, coroner; John Wiethaupt, presiding judge of County Court; Edward W. Rannels, associate judge of County Court.

Large Yew Tree.

The little village of Aldworth, which is close to Streatley-on-Thames, possesses one of the largest yew trees in England, and one which has a grewsome history. The yew tree is nine yards in circumference, and hanging from one of the lower branches in an ancient rusty chain, in which the lifeless bodies of the daring highwaymen of the Berkshire downs have swung to and fro as a warning to their fellows.

FRISCO SOLVENT AND REBUILDING

Rehabilitation Will Be Slow but Sure, Is Harriman's Opinion.

MERCHANTS ARE LOYAL

Railroad Magnate Says Any Sum Actually Needed Can Be Raised.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Edward H. Harriman, president of the Union Pacific Railroad, returned last night from his flying visit to San Francisco. He came back full of hope as to the future of the stricken city. It will be rebuilt, he said, and is even now rising from the ashes, and any sum that is actually needed, even up to $100,000,000, can be raised. The work of permanent rehabilitation, however, will be slow.

"They are rebuilding now in San Francisco," said Mr. Harriman. "They are putting up one and two-story wooden buildings and are establishing temporary wholesale centers as near the railroad as possible. Retail business is being re-established on Van Ness avenue and Fillmore street. Houses are being put up on Van Ness avenue where there were gardens.

"The camps have been fully established and the militia are still in charge by courtesy. This has given the merchants and citizens the needed confidence, as they did not have to worry about their property and effects."

Asked about the New York syndicate which has been organized to raise $100,000,000 for San Francisco, Mr. Harriman replied:

"I do not know anything about that movement. I believe, though, that $100,000,000 could be raised for the stricken city if it were shown that the money was actually needed. It would not be easy to raise such a fund unless the necessity were demonstrated.

Says City Is Solvent.

"There is no question about the solvency of San Francisco. The per capita debt there is very small, and even if the burned district were not rebuilt, every obligation could be met.

"The food supply is becoming exhausted. They will soon have to draw on the relief fund. Up to the present it has been used to re-equip professional men—lawyers, for instance, who have lost their libraries. Such men are not being indiscriminately aided, but all who apply for aid receive it to a reasonable extent. For a long time 100,000 or more persons will have to be fed.

"We are all hopeful," Mr. Harriman went on, "but it will take years to put San Francisco where it was. The merchants are loyal, and there is great fondness for the city throughout California."

Pending a conference with Mr. Harriman, which may be held today, no further steps have been taken by the group of capitalists who plan to raise the large sum for rebuilding San Francisco.

Vice-President A. H. Vanderlip of the National City Bank, who has joined the temporary organization, of which Senator Newlands of Nevada, Harry S. Black, president of the United States Realty and Improvement Co., and others, are members, said today that the date for another meeting had not yet been fixed.

It was explained that the tentative plan of the capitalists is to organize a $5,000,000 corporation and to raise additional money secured by real estate in the burned city. All talk of raising a fund of $75,000,000 or $100,000,000 was stamped as ridiculous because of the present condition of the money market, which approaches starvation all over the country.

Details of the undertaking have not yet been worked out, Mr. Harriman being depended upon to furnish much of the necessary information before any actual steps are taken.

No help is expected from the Morgan-Hill interests, because they are concerned in booming Seattle, the Pacific terminus of the Hill roads, and the rival of San Francisco.

WOMEN URGED TO WORK FOR BONDS

Playgrounds Association Is Interested in Park Project.

PREPARING FOR SUMMER

Volunteer Teachers Are Needed —Gifts of Toys Are Asked.

Women who are members of the St. Louis Playgrounds' Association must take an active interest in the voting for the bond issue if they are true to the spirit evidenced at the meeting of the association Tuesday afternoon in the Delmar Avenue Congregational Church. The bond issue was the watchword of the meeting.

Three of the men present, Dwight F. Davis, E. S. Wilson and H. Grover Cleaveland, explained that the passage of the bond issue meant $670,000 for the parks, and that the association wanted that part of the issue passed regardless of some other parts.

The women were asked to arouse the interest of their men relatives and friends and to see that votes were polled. Not one refused.

In making his report Mr. Davis said that the hope of the association was "to go out of business" eventually, that is when the city had taken charge of all the playgrounds and the Board of Education had assumed control of the vacation schools. He reported the possession of one playground by the city, the lot at Tenth and Mullanphy streets, and the following in charge of the association: Seventh and Russell, Sixth and La Salle, Tenth and Carr; school playgrounds at Dumas, Shields and L'Ouverture; vacation schools at Laclede and Jefferson avenues, Junior School of Horticulture and gardens at other schools.

Will Organize Ball Teams.

The organization of an inter-playground baseball league was reported. In this league only wellbehaved boys can play. Handball courts will be placed at some of the playgrounds.

The Triple A will give an athletic meet for the benefit of the association June 9.

Mrs. Edwin A. De Wolf, president of the association, asked that the impression that the association received support from the Civic League be corrected since they are separate organizations and that all funds for the association be sent to the treasurer, G. Oliver Carpenter, room 906, Century Building.

Gifts of old toys, baby buggies and gocarts were asked for by Mrs. Crunden, 4426 Westminster place.

Philo S. Stevenson will be the superintendent of the vacation schools and will have 30 assistants, including a head assistant. Volunteer teachers are much needed in the playgrounds work and a request for them was sent out to the different Sunday schools and public schools.

Will See King's Wedding.

Lieut. Leigh C. Palmer of the battleship Missouri, son of Mr. and Mrs. Enrique Palmer of 3946 Delmar boulevard, has been appointed to represent the United States Navy at the wedding of King Alfonso of Spain. He will be granted a two months' leave of absence, and will leave his ship, which is stationed at New York, at once, and proceed direct to Madrid.

BOYS who can PLAY the GAME

WE WANT boys who can "play the game," boys who when they play ball hit it hard and get to "first," the boys who want to succeed and are bound to succeed. We need them and we help them. We pay them good money. They can buy cameras, bicycles, horses—one boy has even bought a house and lot. It's "easy money" SELLING

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

And there's more in it than the money, for we teach boys methods of success—we teach them how to work out their problems, teach them salesmanship, which is one of the best paid abilities in the business world. It's worth something to a boy to be connected with a large, successful house.

¶ And we take good care of our boys. There are extra cash prizes, camping trips, and other special offers. A boy can start without its costing him a cent, for we furnish his first supply of magazines free, and the money from these will buy another supply, and so on.

We want to send free an interesting booklet about our boys. Get into the game NOW by writing for it.

Health and Beauty

Beauty is the external proof of health; with failing health comes failing beauty. Woman's delicate organism is frequently over-taxed by arduous household duties, and the demands of society. The constant drain upon her vitality weakens her nervous system. The penalty is a tired, worn-out, exhausted condition which destroys her appetite, robs her of rest, and at intervals causes much suffering and distress. When these conditions exist, the weakened nerves must be strengthened. Dr. Miles' Nervine will do this. It stimulates the action of all the organs, brings refreshing sleep, and drives away that look of care.

"I have taken Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for years, as did my mother before me. Whenever I feel tired, worn-out, or have headache, I always take the Nervine and it strengthens me. I consider it a great remedy for nervousness or debility."

BOOK OF WORSHIP IS NOT POPULAR

Local Presbyterians Do Not Take Kindly to Latest Publication.

Rev. Dr. William J. McKittrick of the First Presbyterian Church said Tuesday that he did not think the book of common worship, just issued by the Presbyterian Board of Publication after three years spent by a committee in preparing it, would be generally adopted in St. Louis.

"The First Church now has a book containing all the forms of worship in which the congregation takes part," Dr. McKittrick said, "and will not buy the new publication. Probably many other churches are similarly placed.

"I do not think the new book will have a large sale. Pastors will make use of its forms of marriage, baptismal and funeral ceremonies, but congregtions will not, I think, adopt it to any extent.

"The omission of tre word obey from the marriage ceremony in the new book is, I think, right. There is no more reason why a woman should obey her husband that he should obey her."

According to the report of sales by the Presbyterian Board of Publication, the new book is not selling rapidly. An official of the board said Tuesday that St. Louis people had bought very few of them. A partial report of the committee in the shape of an incomplete ritual was published two years ago, and a second partial report, somewhat more complete, a year ago. Two weeks ago the board in St. Louis received the first copies of the complete book of worship, which in many particulars is similar to the Episcopal book of common prayer.

The sales on all these reports have been such as to indicate that they were bought for individual use and inspection and not for congregational use.

NEGRO PERISHES IN STABLE FIRE

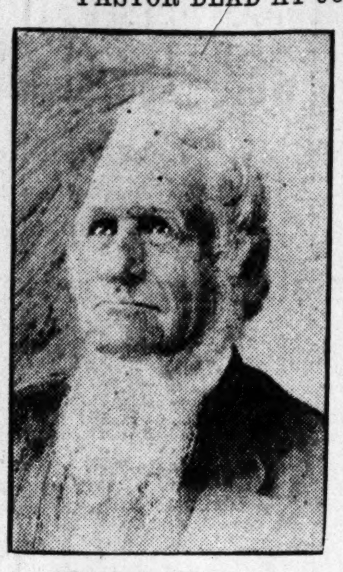
Charles Watson, a negro, 60 years old, was burned to death early Wednesday in a fire in a two-story frame stable in the rear of 6138 Suburban avenue, where he made his home. The firemen were not aware that there was any one in the stable until they had extinguished the flames and found Watson's body.

The fire spread to the double flats at 1113 and 1115 Cockrill street, occupied by Thomas Whalen and John Carroll, respectively. Several children of the Whalen family were asleep when the fire broke out. The doors of the flat were battered down and the children were carried out by Policemen Gartland and Killoran of the Mounted District.

The Whalen and Carroll families lost about $300 worth of household goods each and the flats were damaged to the extent of about $800. The loss to the stable was estimated at $800.

The old negro was known throughout the Cabanne district as "Sportin' Charley." For nearly a quarter of a century Charley hauled ashes from the ashpits of Cabanne's "400," and his old mule, "Dave," which perished in th fire, was a familiar sight, known almost as well as his master. "Dave" and Charley died as they lived for so long, together and alone.

PIONEER METHODIST PASTOR DEAD AT 96.



REV. J. C. BERRYMAN.

New Frisco Timber Agent.

H. P. Jacques, purchasing and timber agent of the Frisco System, has resigned and is succeeded by Frank P. Jefferies, who has been appointed general purchasing agent, with headquarters in St. Louis. Mr. Jefferies is also general purchasing agent of the Rock Island System. W. E. Hudson, chief clerk in the purchasing department, becomes acting purchasing agent.

REV. BERRYMAN DIES AT CALEDONIA

Last Survivor of Methodist Conference Spent 75 Years in Ministry.

WAS ST. LOUIS PASTOR

Pioneer Circuit Rider and School Founder—Was 96 Years Old.

A number of leading St. Louis Methodists will attend the funeral of Rev. J. C. Berryman, the last survivor of the last General Conference of the Methodist Church in the United States when it divided in 1844 on the slavery question. Mr. Berryman, who was 96 years old, died Tuesday at his home in Caledonia, Mo., about one hundred miles south of St. Louis, and will be buried at that place. He was pastor of Centenary Church when it was at Broadway and Pine street in the 50s. His last charge in St. Louis was at the Bellefontaine church, 20 years ago.

When the church divided at the general conference in New York in 1844, forming the Southern and Northern divisions of the church, Rev. Berryman went with the former.

He came to Missouri from Kentucky when he was a young man. He was one of the pioneer circuit riders of Missouri, and was also missionary to the Kickapoo Indians 14 years, and later had charge of the Shawnee Manual Training School near Kansas City.

Founded Arcadia School.

He founded the school at Arcadia, Mo., where he taught for 16 years and which was later made the St. Louis Conference School.

The Southern Methodist General Conference, in session in Birmingham, sent a message of greeting to Rev. Mr. Berryman last week. His reply was received Tuesday at the conference and a few hours later news of his death came.

Rev. Mr. Berryman had spent 75 years in the ministry. He was blind during the last two years of his life, but was otherwise in good health.

J. W. Berryman of St. Louis, a son, and Mrs. E. G. Russell of Farmington, Mo., a daughter, survive him. He also leaves two nephews, Judge C. C. Bland of the St. Louis Court of Appeals, and W. W. Nall, Deputy United States Marshal in St. Louis.

HOUSE REVIVES CITY HALL GHOST

Bill Providing for Salaries of 5000 Employes Finally Passed.

The 5000 city employes and the 10,000 others interested in the financial welfare of the city employes are breathing freely once more. The general appropriation bill was passed by the House of Delegates Tuesday night, signed by Speaker O'Brien and President Forman of the Council.

Wednesday morning it was laid on the Mayor's desk. With his approval it will be filed with the Register, and, as a result, the city employes can receive their salaries Friday.

At times during the passage of the bill through the Council and House there had been rumors that it would be held up for two months or more.

The bill was passed without a dissenting vote. Gazzolo said he voted with deep regret. Priesmeyer came near being eloquent. He said he would vote "yes" because one negative vote would do no good and because he was in favor of the employees being paid as soon as possible. He thought that the members of the House were not standing on their rights in allowing the bill to go through with items in it not what they should be.

Witthoefft said he thought the bill was being passed too hurriedly. He did not think the members really understood it.

In spite of the efforts of several members of the House the Police Department will receive all it asked in its estimate to the Comptroller. Its figures went through in the appropriation bill unchanged.

Just before the rollcall was taken on the bill a lot of delegates left the chamber. Realizing that they were trying to avoid voting Speaker O'Brien instructed the Sergeant-at-Arms to bring back the missing members.

ATTACKS STATE SCHOOLS.

Father Coffey Says Institutions Teach Bigotry.

Rev. Father J. T. Coffey of St. Leo's Church charges that the Catholic religion is subverted in state institutions and the minds of Catholic children turned from the religion of their parents. The charge was made in a speech at the Convent of Good Counsel Tuesday. Father Coffey blamed rich Catholics and Catholic politicians for the condition of State institutions relative to Catholicism.

"Why do they permit it?" asked Father Coffey. "Because too often they are in politics for politics only, and nothing else.

"Why should our State institutions be used for the propagation of hatred for anybody or any religion? I don't object to the Protestant religion being taught. I think some religion should be taught. But I do object to their teaching that this or that or any other denomination is an abomination. Let them teach Christianity as our Lord taught it."

REDHOT HOWLS HUSHED.

Public Can Sleep Until Strawberry Venders Begin.

The crying of venders of the various "red hots,' such as tamales, chili, crawfish and like delicacies, must cease after 9 o'clock each night according to an order issued by Acting Chief Gillaspy. Those who have been unable to sleep because of the cries of tamale venders will now have a chance to catch a few winks before the classic gentleman with the penetrating yodel of "strawberra, strawberra" appears bearing the inevitable box of reddish-green berries.

He has also ordered that captains begin efforts toward making St. Louis a spotless town by seeing that policemen enforce all sanitary regulations.

Two Flee From Asylum.

Gerald McManus and Thomas McCarthy, patients at St. Vincent's Asylum, St. Louis County, made their escape Tuesday while the guards were eating supper. McManus is from Houston, Tex., and McCarthy from Chicago.

"I had acid dyspepsia since I have my knowledge, from eight years old, I know.

"It worked down from stomach to intestines, locating at the umbilicus in enteritis, until six years ago the agony every few days was something terrible. I have walked the floor for hours unable to eat or digest if I should eat.

"Medicine would not relieve me at all. Four years ago I began the use of Grape-Nuts and since the first dish I have not had an attack of the old trouble. I take four tablespoonfuls once a day with my supper which is composed only of whole wheat bread and the Grape-Nuts.

"The wonderful part of my case is that I have never had an attack or even any of the dreadful symptoms since the very first meal of Grape-Nuts. Most of my patients know how suddenly and promptly Grape-Nuts cured me and I have prescribed the food with good results in many cases." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Grape-Nuts is regularly prescribed in place of medicine by many physicians for stomach or intestinal trouble, lack of nourishment, brain-fag and nervous prostration. The result usually shows immediate improvement and a speedy complete cure.

"There's a reason."

STOUT WOMEN'S CONVENTION

FOR ONE WEEK
Beginning Monday, May 7th, 1906
NEW NEMO SELF-REDUCING CORSET.

Every first-class Corset Department which carries Nemo Corsets will participate in this Convention;—having made special arrangements to demonstrate and fit the New Nemo Self-Reducing Corset, free of charge. The Convention will be open to all.

Every stout woman who is anxious to reduce her figure should take advantage of the present opportunity to have this remarkable Corset explained and fitted. Thousands have done so during the past few months, with the most satisfactory result—a greatly reduced figure. If you don't know about this great Corset, now is the time to find exactly what you havebeen looking for—a Corset that will positively reduce the figure without the slightest discomfort; in fact, it will make you comfortable. Women who are physically weak, or who stand or walk much, will find this an occasion to obtain immediate relief; for the patented features of this new Corset give effective and healthful support—a result not given by any other corset.

The stout woman need worry no longer because of her too-generous figure; the remedy bas been found. She is now given the means of restoring the graceful lines which are the basis of woman's physical charms. Be sure to attend this Convention. Call on your dealer without delay. Study the new Nemo Self-Reducing Corset.

The prices are $3.00 and $5.00.

This Corset will give any stout woman the best shape she ever had. It is unequaled for durability—like other Nemo Corsets, it will hold its shape until worn out. It produces results not heretofore possible. It is in a class by itself—"the Corset that never had a rival".

BLACK-GIN
FOR THE KIDNEYS.

OPEN METHODS
APPROVED BY GOVERNMENT

The manufacturers of Black-gin have always printed upon the label of every bottle the fact that it contained "Juniper Berries, Buchu Leaves and other valuable diuretics." This valuable remedy has been before the public for almost forty years.

MEDICINE—NOT LIQUOR
ZOELLER'S
BLACK-GIN

Is a medicine, but not a "secret" preparation. It has a very small percentage of alcohol—just enough to draw out the curative properties from the vegetable substance from which it is made.
As a matter of fact, the amount of alcohol is so small as to class this medicine as "NON-ALCOHOLIC."

U. S. GOVERNMENT PROVES BLACK-GIN A MEDICINE

The Internal Revenue Department's new ruling requires that any medicine which contains alcohol, beyond a certain limit, must pay a special liquor license.
The manufacturers of Black-gin will not be required to take out this special license. Could we give you a better proof than this? It shows that Black-gin is a true and honest medicine—and not a concoction put up to sell in temperance towns.
It therefore follows that Black-gin cannot be classed with other liquids of an intoxicating character. Nobody could drink enough of this medicine to intoxicate. Although not hard to take—having an aromatic taste—IT WILL NOT CULTIVATE A TASTE FOR DRINK, but acts to the contrary on persons who have been drinking to excess.
Black-gin flushes out waste and poisons from the kidneys. These organs are then free to do their regular work—purify the blood. As soon as the strain is taken away from your system by this cleansing, you feel as if made over again.
Aches, pains, lame-back and sides, rheumatism and gout are quickly relieved. Hundreds of remarkable cures have been made by Black-gin—we have testimonials from all parts of the world from people whose lives have been saved by this great medicine.
As all human beings are made of the same clay—after the same working model, you ought to try Black-gin in your own case. It will do for you just what it has done for others afflicted with Bright's Disease, Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Rheumatism, either acute or chronic, Dropsy, Gout and Female Complaints.

IF YOU SUFFER

Symptoms like the following should not be neglected: Pain in the back and sides, loss of sleep, nightmare, swelling of legs and feet, inflamed or burning eyes, etc., etc. Your health needs immediate attention if you are troubled in any of these ways.

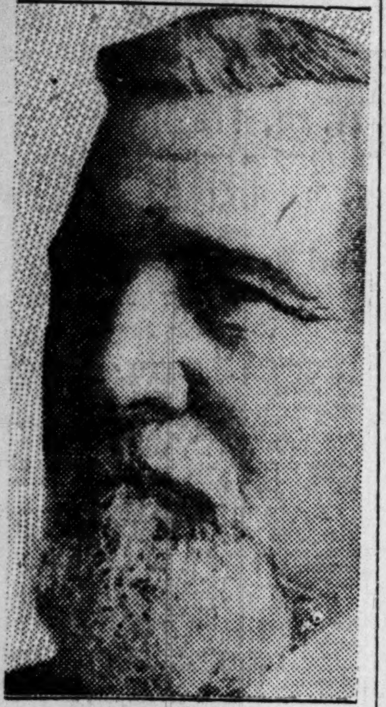
EX-MAYOR CRUMBO RECOMMENDS PE-RU-NA.



"My Endorsement of Pe-ru-na is Based on its Merits."
—Ed Crumbo.

ED. CRUMBO, Ex-Mayor of New Albany, Ind., writes from 511 E. Oak street:

"My endorsement of Peruna is based on its merits.

"If a man is sick he looks anxiously for something which will cure him, and Peruna will do the work.

"I know that it will cure catarrh of the head or stomach, indigestion, headache and any weary or sick feeling.

"It is bound to help anyone, if used according to directions.

"I also know dozens of men who speak in the highest terms of Peruna and have yet to hear of anyone being disappointed in it."

Mr. Crumbo, in a later letter, dated Aug. 25, 1904, says:

"My health is good, at present, but if I should have to take any more medicine I will fall back on Peruna."

Revised Formula.

"For a number of years requests have come to me from a multitude of grateful friends, urging that Peruna be given a slight laxative quality. I have been experimenting with a laxative addition for quite a length of time, and now feel gratified to announce to the friends of Peruna that I have incorporated such a quality in the medicine which, in my opinion, can only enhance its well-known beneficial character.

This Chinese Prince Is Indianapolis' Vice-Mayor

Leader of His Countrymen Solicits San Francisco Relief Funds.

Prince Pang Gawk Yuen, Vice-Mayor of Indianapolis, is in St. Louis soliciting subscriptions for his fellow-countrymen who were victims of the San Francisco earthquake and fire. He has already raised $500, and expects to raise more. He solicits chiefly from the Chinese.

Prince Yuen is a man with the courteous manners and the traditional bland smile. He bears credentials from Gov. Hanly of Indiana and other officials.

In Indianapolis there are 50 Chinese, and Prince Yuen is the official head of their colony, having been given the title of Vice-Mayor with the consent of the regularly constituted municipal authorities.

In Cincinnati, where there are only 34 Chinese, Prince Yuen was successful, and he expects to leave St. Louis Wednesday for Memphis, where the members of his race are much more numerous. All he collects will be forwarded to the Chinese Relief Committee in San Francisco. Prince Yuen says 2000 of the 38,000 Chinese in San Francisco lost their lives, and that their homes, both above ground and below, were destroyed. Many have come to St. Louis, he says. He thinks the majority of these will return when Chinatown is rebuilt.

On Prince Yuen's breast a red and white silk badge is displayed among glittering insignia of rank. He "points with pride" to the ribbon. "Plesiden' wear that," he says, meaning Roosevelt. It is the Red Cross badge.

MAGISTRATE WON'T PUNISH DRUNKARDS

New York Lawyers to Ask Removal of Eccentric Police Judge.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

NEW YORK, May 9.—The Bar Association has determined to file charges against Police Magistrate Joseph Pool and to ask for his removal from the magistrate's bench.

Magistrate Pool is 69 years old. Sometimes, lately, his conduct and rulings have been eccentric and his temper irascible. For example, he does not believe that a drunken man making a row in a saloon is guilty of disorderly conduct, if the bartender there sold him the liquor that affected him so violently. He discharges all persons arrested for intoxication on Sunday and usually writes across each policeman's affidavit that the prisoner got the liquor that undid him in the policeman's own precinct.

Charles A. Sheehan of the West Shore Railroad and his attorney, William J. McCormick, recently organized the army of those with grievances against the aged magistrate, and collected their testimony, which the Bar Association asked for. Mr. Sheehan swore he would spend all his money to punish Magistrate Pool for his treatment of Mrs. Sheehan in the West Side Police Court last November. Mrs. Sheehan was complainant against a waiter whom she suspected of stealing a gold purse given to her by her husband. The magistrate wanted to know the value of the purse, said it might be plated and asked questions to which Mr. Sheehan strongly objected.

"You scoundrel," cried the magistrate to Mr. Sheehan, jumping to his feet and smashing his desk with his gavel. "I won't have any man talk to me so. You are an inpudent fellow, and I won't allow you in this room. You could not be believed on oath. Get out."

Mr. Sheehan hesitated and the magistrate shouted to the police officers:

"Reel him down outside the rail, clear into the hall. I won't allow him in this room."

Mayor Strong appointed Pool a magistrate May 8, 1897, for a team of ten years, at a salary of $7000 a year.

Two Million Little Children Starving

Poor and Rich Alike Suffer from Lack of Good Food.

We notice that John Spargo, in his new book, "The Bitter Cry of the Children," says no less than two million American children between the ages of five and fourteen are victims of chronic under-feeding. They are the easy prey of disease, nervous, irritable, weakened both physically and mentally, and unfit for that perfect development which Nature intended for them.

Mr. Spargo speaks particularly of the children of the poor, but what he says is, in thousands of cases, true of the children of the wealthy, and the comfortably well-to-do. Many children who have "all they can eat" are really under-fed. For the food which they are given is not food from which they can get the nutrition they need.

There is no other food, so far as we know, so nutritious, so strengthening for children as Malta-Vita, the perfect malted whole-wheat food. This is not only because Malta-Vita is so rich in all the nutrition the body needs for sustaining health and strength. More important by far is the fact that the nutrition of the malted wheat is so easily digested and assimilated that all its life-giving elements are taken up by the system, forming rich, red blood in abundance and giving growth and vigor to body and brain. Malta-Vita is insurance of perfect health for children. And it is so good to eat!

ENGLISH CHAMPION DEFEATS JAY GOULD

Eustace H. Miles, Successfully Defends His Court Tennis Title Against Young Yankee Challenger, Winning the Match by Three Sets to One.

LONDON, May 9.—Eustace H. Miles, holder of the English court tennis championship, defeated Jay Gould of Lakewood, N. J., three sets to one, today.

Young Gould won the first set after an interesting battle of the racquets, and did not succumb to the champion in the last two without a hard struggle.

Jay Gould is the second son of George J. Gould of New York. He is only 17.

Young Gould was unknown as a player save to Forrester, the tennis professional at Georgian Court, the amusement hall at George Gould's country place at Lakewood, N. J., and George Standing prior to the games with Peter Latham, the English crack, at Lakewood, last December. There had been rumors of his prowess in the game, but the clubmen who went to the match did not expect to find them so well founded, for there is usually little basis for such forecasts of new players.

Latham conceded only 15, the usual odds of a champion to a crack amateur, yet the stripling nearly beat him in the first set. Gould had the lead by 3—0, then 4—2, and after Lantham made it 4 all the youngster was once more in the lead at 6—4. Then Latham made it a vantage set and finally won the second set by 9—6. The Englishman won the second set by 6—2. The same day Standing and Jay Gould beat Latham and Charles E. Sands, the national amateur champion, by 6—3, 6—3, 11—9.

"In England the amateurs do not take up tennis until they get to the universities, and I am amazed to find so young and capable a player here," was a comment by Latham, after the games. "Young Gould is the finest player for his years that I have ever known. He lacks only the true tennis finesse, but six months in the London courts, against good men, would eradicate the tendency to play racquets or lawn tennis instead of the true game."

Court Tennis Described.

Tennis requires more playing than any other game in the world. There is room in it for the speediest cut of racquets and the most gentle lob of lawn tennis, besides the high premiums on placing in playing for or defending chases and in playing for the winning openings.

The true tennis stroke must put spin on the ball, which, like the twist in billiards, will influence the angle in rebounds from the walls or floor, or else so check a rebound that the ball will drop straight down to the floor, the effect being similar to the back draw in billiards. The drawing of the racquet across the ball imparts the spin and to best put it on is to go around the ball with the racquet instead of swiping at it.

The service is the one stroke in which the ball is not taken at speed. At all games with the racquet the server tosses the ball lightly and strikes at it in midair, just as the baseball players do when one is batting out for practice catches, technically fungoes.

COUNTRY CLUB VS. TRIPLE A.

Baseball Teams Made Up of Old College Players Will Probably Cross Bats.

It is probable that Joe Wear, manager of the crack Country Club baseball nine, will accept the challenge issued by the Triple A nine for a game of baseball to be played Decoration Day, May 30, for the club men's championship of the city.

The Country Club aggregation has created as great a sensation in baseball as it did in socker last season when, after defeating the crack teams of the city it beat the fast Christian Brothers' College eleven, which afterwards won the amateur championship from the Innisfails.

The baseball team has defeated Washington University and Smith Academy. It has in its line-up such former college stars as Joe, Jimmy and Arthur Wear, ex-Yale players; Harry Wallace and Jim Reynolds, who also played with old Eli and Bert and Ted Walker and Perry Francis who were stars in the days of the old Vandeventer places.

The Triple A organization seems equally as fast with Billy Steinwender, Princeton's former second sacker, and Frank Davidson, two years ago with Belleville. Lonnie Fitzporter is the second baseman of the team and Holthaus, the team's regular pitcher, won 19 out of the 21 games he twirled last year for Triple A.

Bascomb, Artie Lewis and Dieckmann are also fast and clever amateurs. The games, if arranged, should result in some excellent baseball.

The statement of Dr. Stockhoff that he will take up sculling this year has caused the local single men to sit up and take notice. Stockhoff's friends are sure of his ability to make the best of the Southwestern scullers paddle faster than they ever have before to beat him.

NO LIQUOR SOLD AT PADDLE AND SADDLE

Intoxicating Beverages Will Not Be Supplied to Members of Riding and Canoe Club.

The Paddle and Saddle Club, the new organization devoted to canoeing and horseback riding, which is located at Valley Park, Mo., will celebrate its entrance into the club field Saturday, May 12.

The clubhouse is situated on the old Timmermann place, on the north bank of the Meramec, at the southern limits of Valley Park, 18 miles southwest of St. Louis, within a five minutes' walk of both the Missouri Pacific and Frisco Railroad stations. The combined train service of the two railrods allows arrival or departure every hour.

The club is affiliated with the American Canoe Association, a national organization actvely interested in the revival of canoeing, and a regatta will be held during the summer months similar to that held by the association each year at Banonoque, Canada.

Later in the season horseback riding will be the chief sport and cross-country riding, paper chases and anise drags features. The club has been offered use of a pack of hounds, and chases after the wily fox will be frequent during the winter.

The directors of the new organization have decided that the sale and consumption of intoxicating liquors will not be permitted on the premises, but every accommodation will be furnished for the club members who desire to dine at the Valley Park quarters.

Tennis Tattle

Three of the American team, Beals C. Wright, Raymond D. Little and Kreigh Collins, have reported in Philadelphia to Frederick G. Anderson, chairman of the committee in charge of the team. Holcombe Ward, who has been practicing on the courts of the ew York Lawn Tennis Club, will not join the team until next week.

England's defending team of players in the international matches for the Dwight F. Davis cup as indicated in current issues of English Lawn Tennis, will be Hugh Lawrence Doherty, the English champion, and Dr. W. V. Eaves in the singles, while Reginald Doherty will assist his brother in the doubles.

The Columbia University interscholastic tennis championship, the winner of which will be privileged to compete at Newport for the national interscholastic honors, will be started at New York this week.

C. A. T.—Did Meyers, the Streator Cyclone, ever win from Jack McAuliffe? No.

De Soto, Mo.—A batter hits a fly ball to the outfield and ball is caught by the fielder. There was a runner on third who scored on the play. Does the batter get credit for a sacrifice hit? No. A sacrifice hit is credited to the batsman who, when no one is out, advances a runner a base by a bunt hit, which results in the batsman being put out before reaching first, or would so result if it were handled without error.

LITTLE JOE — HOLDER OF TRACK RECORD 2.18½ GADSBY & CO'. OWNERS

One of the finest and most deserving of sports in the vicinage of St. Louis is the trotting matinee of the North St. Louis Driving Club. Money is of no moment, as the sport is conducted at Waterworks Park. Fair sport is the sole raison d'etre of the club's existence. No one expects or hopes to make money in the trots. This being the case, everyone is always trying and every step of every race is trotted on the level.

The club was reorganized this spring, with Oscar Brinkman as president, J. K. Baer secretary and O. W. Burger treasurer. The officials are determined that the sport shall be conducted along high lines and in a thoroughly amateur manner as far as the principles of sportsmanship go while the actual transaction of affairs shall be most business-like.

Many good horses will trot at the Waterworks Park this season. The track is at the right by the Merchants' Bridge, near Broadway and Ferry street. There is a fine grandstand, a good half-mile track and, he who likes to see horses trot cannot do better than spend a Saturday afternoon at Waterworks Park.

CARDINALS VS. CUBS ON HOME GROUNDS

McCloskey and His Men Begin a Long Sojourn at Home Wednesday.

McCloskey and his Cardinals returned from Cincinnati Wednesday morning after a sojourn of three days in the city of August Hermann and Ned Hanlon. The Cardinals will begin a series of three games with the Chicago Cubs at League Park Wednesday afternoon. Manager McCloskey will probably pitch Carl Druhot, his recent acquisition from the Cincinnati club, and Tommy Raub, the Montreal recruit, who has been hitting the ball like Mike Grady used to do, will receive him.

Ruehlbach has notified Manager Chance that his arm is in good condition again and that he is now ready to take his turn on the slab, so he may officiate for the Cubs.

The McCloskeyites had a lively time in Cincinnati. They were beaten after a bitter contest between Egan and Ewing in Sunday's game by the close score of 2 to 1. Monday the two teams fought for 15 innings without a decision, Weimer and Brown each allowing but two runs. With the players of both teams fairly itching to pounce on each other Tuesday it rained, leaving everyone in a disgruntled mood.

Walter and Chandler H. Egan have signified their intentions of entering the Western amateur golf championship, because of the change in the dates to Sept. 3 to 8. The cousins are highly pleased with the rearrangement of dates.

Eighty-two clubs are now in the Western Golf Association's list of members.

SCHAEFER OUTLUCKS STUDENT SLOSSON.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, May 9.—Jake Schaefer defeated George F. Slosson by the score of 500 to 495 in the 18.2 championship billiard tournament last night at Orchestra Hall.

Slosson was within five points of the end of his string when he failed to drive the balls out of balk. Schaefer chalked his cue, stepped to the table and clicked off 80, which gave him the game.

Schaefer averaged 17 7-29 and his best run was 103.

TAUSSIG RENEWS FIGHT ON FOOTBALL

Death of High School Student Causes Demand for Action.

A report on football as it is played and as it affects schools and students was demanded of the Committee on Instruction by Dr. William Taussig at the meeting of the Board of Education Tuesday night. Dr. Taussig spoke of the death of a High School boy, resulting from injuries received in a football game. He said a petition had been presented to the committee last December, and that he thought it was time the commitee was reporting.

No time for a report was set by the committee.

The board fixed the rate of taxation for the benefit of public schools at 55 cents on the $100 valuation. This is the rate in force for the last two years.

The resignation of William D. Butler, superintendent of the Blow School, was accepted. Mr. Butler has been connected with the St. Louis public schools for 52 years.

RIPPLES of the Ring

Jack O'Brien gave a lecture on physical culture to the students of Villanova (Pa.) College Tuesday evening. He outlined his manner of training for his fights and in order to let the students see him in real action, boxed three rounds with his sparring partner, Joe Hagen, and three rounds with Jack Egan, former amateur champion middleweight of the United States.

Asserting that he can make 133 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Jimmy Gardner has accepted the terms offered by Billy Pierce of the Lincoln Athletic Club of Chelsea, Mass., for a match with Joe Gans for the lightweight title.

Several of the Illinois clubs are figuring on a battle between Frankie Neil and Grover Hayes. Hayes is the lad with whom Carol Cain has been promised a match by one of the Peoria clubs.

Baseball Babble

Tom Loftus, former manager of the Washington baseball club, was seriously injured in a runaway at Dubuque, Io., last week. The vehicle in which he was riding was overturned and Loftus was dragged some distance. His collar bone was broken and his body a mass of bruises, but serious complications are not anticipated.

Manager Jimmy Collins of the Boston Americans is confined to his room in Boston with symptoms of pneumonia.

Brouthers, the Athletics' third baseman, got five hits off Tannehill out of five times at bat at Boston Tuesday. Chief Bender, who played left field, only got two, but they were both home runs.

There does not seem to be much chance of Otto Williams making the Washington infield as long as Nill and Schafly continue their sensational work.

Ganley won Tuesday's game for Pittsburg from the Cubs by stealing home in the eighth inning. He was aided in the pilfer by a passed ball.

Walter Clarkson, who has regularly disappointed his friends for the past two years by his failure to make good his early promise, was knocked out of the box by Washington Tuesday.

Lindaman, the former Pittsburg pitcher who was exchanged to the Boston Beaneaters with Brain and Howard for Vic Willis, allowed Hugh Duffy's hard-hitting Quakers but two hits Tuesday.

Marshall, the catcher New York wanted to trade to St. Louis for Grady, received McGinnity at Brooklyn Tuesday. He hammered out two hits, one of them a double, and caught a brilliant game.

Ward, the Phillies' third sacker, continues to clout the ball in a sensational manner. A few days ago he got four hits out of five times at bat.

Secretary Barnard of the Cleveland club says he never goes to Chicago, even in midsummer, without bringing along all his winter clothes, because the Blues always encounter cold weather there.

Mike Kelley, the manager of the Minneapolis club, who is the property of the St. Louis Ravens, has started negotiations for the purchase of his release from the St. Louis club.

Connie Mack has pulled back Armbruster from Newark and says he will play him in the Athletics' outfield.

Fred Raymer made good his promise to go to Johnstown, Pa., in the Outlaw League, and was there on the opening day.

RAVENS FINISH UP IN THE WEST

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, May 9.—The Ravens will play the final game of the series with the White Sox this afternoon at South Side Park. Manager Jones will probably send Nick Altrock to the slab and Manager McAleer said this morning that he would use Jacobson.

Tuesday's game was postponed on account of rain. Showers fell during the morning and afternoon, which, with the high and cold wind blowing over the city, made it unwise to play ball and take chances of injuring arms that the disposition of a pennant may depend upon.

The Ravens will leave immediately after this afternoon's game for Boston, where they open a series of four games on Friday. All the Eastern clubs and four games with Cleveland will be played before McAleer's charges return home June 1.

Local followers of rowing will be surprised when they read that Jake Gaudaur, the former professional champion sculler, who lived for a number of years in St. Louis, has an idea of returning to competition. Gaudaur is 48 years of age, and for the past seven years has been in the hotel business in Canada. It was only the other day that Stansbury, the Australian, following an absence of almost 20 years from the rowing shell, went out and won a capital race from a first-class adversary.

W. U. FRESHMEN DEFEAT SMITH

Dual Meet at Stadium Results in Victory for Collegians Over Schoolboys.

Washington University's Freshmen won the dual meet with Smith Academy at the Stadium Tuesday afternoon by the score of 59 to 40.

The Freshmen had no more than two men in each event, frequently three and four Smith men participating in the different contests and earning seconds and thirds, which enhanced their total number of points.

But two firsts were won by the Red and White, these being earned by Klipstein, who won the hammer event with a throw of 122 feet, and Blackmer, who cleared 65 inches in the high jump and was easily entitled to first place.

Mackey, Washington, scored the greatest number of points of any competitor on account of his victories in the low and high hurdles and pole vault.

Jack Johston was the first to break the tape in the 100 and 220 and Dick Wehrnel, who gives unusual promise for a novice, annexed the 440 and 880.

Jacobs cleared 19 feet 8 inches in the broad jump, which won the event. Rodenberg won the shotput.

College Collations

Yale's crack stars are planning to begin their intercollegiate season next Saturday, when they meet Princeton at New Haven in their annual dual games. Yale expects to win the Princeton meet, but not by so large a margin as usual.

Cornell shut out Columbia University Saturday, 4 to 0. Umstad pitched for the Ithacans and allowed but one hit.

Phillips Andover defeated Yale last week 4 to 3 for the second time in the history of the Academy.

Yale closed her spring football practice Monday with her annual punting contest, which was won by F. E. Wernecken, '07. P. L. Veeder, '07, was second, and Howard Roome, '07, the All-American halfback of last year, got third place. The squad will return early in September and start work for the fall campaign.

Syracuse will send a junior collegiate eight to the American regatta, which will be held at Philadelphia May 26, and also enter James A. Ten Eyck, jr., in the single scull event.

Guy Hutchinson of Yale has been secured by the football management to act as Omherst's football coach next year.

Manual Training School and Yeatman High are scheduled for a game of baseball Saturday afternoon at Kulage Park.

The Washington University baseball team will make a short tour before disbanding for the season. The team is scheduled for games at Fayetteville, Ark., with the University of Arkansas nine, May 17, 18 and 19. Westminster College will be played at Fulton, Mo., May 25. May 26 Missouri Valley College will be met at Marshall, Mo. Washington's last out-of-town games will be played with the School of Mines at Rolla, Mo.

The college baseball season so far as it has gone locally has been notable for but one disappointing incident. This has been the failure of St. Louis U. and Washington to get together. As far as the ballplaying abilities of the two teams are concerned there does not seem to be much room for comparison, for the Blue and White boys go marching on like the soul of Jeff Davis, while the Washington team is still in the up-and-down class.

The third game of the St. Louis U.-St. Charles Military Academy series will be played at the Christian Brothers' College campus Saturday afternoon.

S.S.S. FOR THE BLOOD

The purifying action and curative properties of this great remedy have made "S. S. S. For The Blood" a household saying, and thousands who are today enjoying perfect health owe their recovery from blood or skin diseases to this universally used blood medicine. S. S. S. is made entirely from roots, herbs and barks which possess not only cleansing and healing ingredients, but building-up and strengthening properties to keep the blood in perfect order. No one can be well when the blood is impure; they lack the energy and strength that is natural with health, the complexion becomes pale and sallow, the vitality is weakened and they suffer from a general broken down condition. When the waste or refuse matter, which nature intends shall be thrown off, is left in the system because of a sluggish, torpid condition of the expelling members, it is absorbed into the blood, making this vital stream weak, sour and acrid, and its condition is manifested by boils, pimples, rashes, blotches and other eruptions of the skin. S. S. S. goes into the circulation and removes every particle of blood taint or poison of every character, makes the blood fresh and strong and gives energy to the entire body. When the blood has been cleansed by S. S. S. all skin diseases and eruptions pass away and the smooth, clear skin, glowing with health, shows that the body is being nourished by rich, pure blood. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, etc. are all deep-seated blood disorders, and for their cure nothing equals S. S. S. It does not injuriously affect the most delicate parts of the body and can be taken with perfect safety by old or young. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired without charge to all who write.

NEWSBOY ASKS $10,000.

Henry Tiefenbrunn, a 12-year-old newsboy, has brought suit against the United Railways Co. for $10,000 damages, $5000 actual and $5000 punitive, because of injuries received in being kicked off of a car by a conductor.

The boy alleges that on April 17, 1906, at 7:30 p. m., he boarded a northbound Broadway car at Marion street to sell papers. Conductor W. O. Lively ordered him off and he said he would get off as soon as the car stopped. He says that the conductor, without stopping the car, kicked him a great many times in the stomach and face, finally kicking him from the car while it was in rapid motion.

He fell on the street, and he alleges that he was so badly injured about the face, stomach and hips that he has been incapacitated from work and is permanently crippled.

THIRTY NEW DENTISTS.

One woman and 29 young men will receive diplomas Friday at the graduation exercises of the St. Louis University Dental School, in Central Y. M. C. A. Hall. The woman graduate is Miss Bertha Smith of Herculaneum, Mo.

The Alumni Association of the school held its annual banquet Tuesday night at Hotel Jefferson. The guests numbered 120, including the class of 1906. A number of addresses were made. This followed the annual clinic, held at the college, Grand avenue and Caroline street. Several difficult operations in dental surgery were performed, and papers were read.

COW FURNISHES HORNY PROBLEM

SUIT HAS COST $300

Boehme Says Horns Were Uneven, Koehler Replying All Cows' Are.

One dark brown Jersey cow, which was originally two dark brown Jersey cows, has caused three trials and $300 court costs because she looks so much like the other cow that it is impossible to tell whether she is herself or not.

The third trial has resulted in a verdict that she is the dark brown Jersey cow of Max Koehler of 5346 Maple avenue, but Robert Boehme of 6420 Arsenal street, who says she is his dark brown Jersey, is not convinced, and the Supreme Court may yet have to decide her identity.

From 1902 to 1904 both Mr. Koehler and Mr. Boehme owned dark brown Jerseys. Mr. Koehler bought his in Carthage, Mo. Mr. Boehme bought his in St. Louis.

In June, 1904, Boehme's cow disappeared. In July Koehler turned his cow over to James McDermott to be put on pasture at Creve Coeur Lake, while the Koehler were out of town. Instead McDermott took her to his home on Page avenue.

In August Boehme saw a negro boy leading a cow along a West End street. He thought it was his cow. The boy told him it was McDermott's and that it was being pastured on King's highway. Boehme got possession of the cow and took it home. Two days later Koehler replevined it and has had it since.

In Justice O'Hallaron's Court Koehler won. Boehme appealed to the Circuit Court. On the first trial before Judge Taylor Boehme won. A new trial was granted and Tuesday Koehler won.

A Horny Problem.

Boehme testified that he identified his cow by the fact that one horn was a little shorter than the other. To offset this Koehler offered testimony that most cows had their horns that way.

Mr. Koehler became facetious in an answering questions on cross-examination.

"Did your cow have horns?" he was asked.

"She did and still has them," he answered.

"She still has those horns?"

"Yes, still."

"Did you ever milk the cow in person?"

"I think the first or second day she was there I tried to milk her."

"But you did not milk her?"

"I did."

"After that did you milk her any more?"

"I couldn't say. Not as a vocation."

"You never fed the cow, did you?"

"I may have done that, as I have no scruples against feeding cows."

"Was the cow perfect?"

"As near perfect as any animal gets. I have not examined her to see whether any ribs are broken."

"But on the outside she was perfect?"

MUST MOVE FROM OWN BUILDING

Court Ousts East Side Man From Structure Brewery Had Leased.

An interesting decision was rendered Tuesday by Justice McKane of East St. Louis, in which judgment was rendered against Paul Buski for possession of his own building in favor of the Obert Brewing Co., and a writ of restitution granted to dispossess him within five days.

On Jan. 7, 1906, Buski bought the brick building at Fifth street and Ohio avenue, East St. Louis, from F. B. Bowman and Patrick Flannery for $13,000. It is said that when Buski, who is Polish, went to 110 North Main street to pay the money, last January, he wrote thin clothing, and one suspender, was poorly dressed and carried a dirty sack. He asked for Mr. Bowman, and counted out $13,000 in cash to complete the deal.

He bought the building subject to a lease held by the Obert Brewery, which had two years yet to run. When the deeds were transferred, Buski made a deal with Mrs. Susie Newman, who was then conducting a saloon in the building, and paid her $75 to deliver possession to him. When August Kolb, the brewery agent, found Buski in possession and also owner, he requested Buski to give the brewery a new five-year lease on the place, but Buski refused. He said that the brewery could keep its old lease, and that he would rent from them and buy their beer until the lease ended.

This did not satisfy Kolb, and proceedings were instituted before Justice McKane to oust Buski, and Tuesday's judgment was in the brewery's favor. Unless Buski appeals the case, he will have to move out of his own building within the next five days.

CORWINE ANSWERS SHAW.

Merchants' Exchange Directors Hear Reciprocity Speech.

William R. Corwine, secretary of the New York committee of the American Reciprocal Tariff League, in addressing the directors of the Merchants' Exchange pleaded for the passage of the Curtis bill, a reciprocity measure. His speech was considered by some of his hearers as a reply to Secretary Shaw's recent Music Hall address.

Mr. Corwine pointed out the possibilities for injury to American trade by the new German tariff, which goes into effect June 30, 1907. He urged tariff revision and predicted a combination of European countries against the United States unless such action is taken.

DIED WHILE ASLEEP.

Old Employe of Dr. O'Reilly Succumbed at Night.

William Cooney, aged 70 years, a carpenter, who entered the employ of the late Dr. Thomas O'Reilly more than a quarter of a century ago and has since the physician's death remained in the employ of Mrs. O'Reilly, was found dead at the O'Reilly residence, 1243 Washington avenue, Wednesday morning.

Always of a retiring nature Cooney became more so after the death of his wife two years ago, and seldom spoke of his affairs.

He is not known to have any living relatives. He spoke of feeling ill Tuesday evening and instead of going to his home lay down upon a couch in one of the rooms in the rear. The coachman brought him his supper of toast and tea, but when he went to see how the old man was Wednesday morning found that he had died in the night.

MAN UNCONSCIOUS FROM NOSEBLEED

IT BEGAN MONTHS AGO

Suffering from nose bleed intermittently for the last three months, George Veix, a tailor of Sixth and Market streets, is unconscious at the City Hospital from the loss of blood. Heroic measures are being resorted to to save the man's life.

Veix went to the City Hospital Tuesday by his own accord. He had the first attack of nosebleed, or epistaxis, as the medical men call the disease, about the first of February.

The attacks came at first at long intervals and did not last long. Later they would last two or three days. Veix never consulted a doctor about his peculiar ailment. Tuesday he was the victim of a particularly severe attack and went to the City Dispensary.

Temporary remedies to stop the flow of blood were applied and the patient was allowed to go to the City Hospital on a street car with his permit of admission. On the way to the institution, the flow of blood had almost entirely stopped.

Wednesday the bleeding began afresh, he suffered from a fit, and lost consciousness entirely. Among the remedies being applied are "cotton corks." They are made of medicated cotton, are introduced at the nostrils, shoved through and taken out at the mouth. Ice applications to the nose are also used and the physicians are hopeful of ultimately curing him.

Veix came three years ago from Kansas.

Malt Gives Beer High Nutrition

Eight-Day Malt, Exclusive Product of an American Brewery, Makes the Richest Beer.

Malt is the life of beer. Our readers understand, of course, that in brewing beer the first thing to do is make the malt from which to make the beer. The richer the malt the more nutritious, the more wholesome the beer. Pabst learned years ago that the forced method of making malt in three or four days could not possibly be accomplished without losing in large degree the life-giving, strength-giving elements of the barley. Most breweries use this old process. It is quicker, easier and less expensive. The Pabst way gives the full richness of the grain to the beer. It doubles the expense of brewing, but it makes Pabst Beer the leader of all beers.

Pabst Beer is the richest beer in actual food value and strength-building elements because it is made only with Pabst eight-day malt. Careful test, practical experience in brewing, always with an eye single to the very best product possible, has taught Pabst that malt made of grain grown in this country must have eight days in which to properly mature. Malt perfect in nutritious elements can only be made by following the process of Nature without crowding, and that is what Pabst does. He makes his own malt by an exclusive eight-day process, double the time and double the expense of the common four-day method. This Pabst process gets all the good out of the barley and into the malt. No other process does.

Pabst eight-day malt, made from finest barley, grows as naturally as it would if put in the ground, moistened by the rain and warmed by the sun. Nature abhors waste and in the eight-day process there is no forced unnatural growth that wastes food elements of the grain. The result is a beer that has the greatest food value, the greatest tonic value, yet is mild and pleasant, superior in taste and flavor, perfect in age, purity and strength. This is Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer, the best beer brewed.

Spring Time Need of a Good Tonic

We often have people come to our store for something to brace them up.

We always recommend Rexall Mucu-Tone as the ideal remedy, with the result that they invariably come back, not for the money, which we have always guaranteed to return in case of dissatisfaction, but to speak in the most appreciative terms of this wonderful remedy, and to thank us for having urged them to take it for their spring-time ailments.

It has won the highest praises not only here, but all over the country.

It cleanses the mucous membranes of the body, drives out the poison, builds up the wasted tissues.

Because it does all this, Mucu-Tone is to our nation the ideal spring tonic. The very first dose of Mucu-Tone braces you up, while three or four weeks of it in tablespoon doses three times a day will make you feel like a new person.

It will rebuild your whole system, making you fairly bubble over with good spirits, buoyancy and vigor of perfect health.

If you are feeling badly, are afraid you are going to be sick; if you are run down and miserable generally, our advice is to take a fifty cent bottle of Mucu-Tone. If it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel better than you have in months, we will promptly return you your money.

A REASON

The United Drug Company increased its business 81 per cent. in December, 1905, over the corresponding month, 1904.

When you consider that all their products are guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded, isn't this increased evidence of satisfaction on the part of the purchasers of Rexall Remedies? Could a business grow as rapidly as the Rexall Remedies have if its products weren't a good deal better than its competitor? There is some pleasure in being satisfied—why not try a Rexall Remedy for your ailment? We have it.

all skin diseases. X-Zalia removes all inflammation and grows healthy flesh. You can put it on the rawest sore without one bit of smarting.

Mouth and Gums Healed

One young man says: "I suffered with mouth sores and cankers for months. I commenced rinsing my mouth with X-Zalia about every hour, and in less than two days my gums entirely healed, and every sore and canker disappeared."

Catarrhal Troubles Quickly Yield

A. A. Remillard of Cincinnati, cured of catarrh, says:

"I have had catarrh very badly for several years, and thought while I stayed in this climate nothing could help me. I have been using X-Zalia two weeks, and by snuffing it through my nostrils have already gotten rid of that 'stuffed-up feeling' in my head. I intend to persist in its use, as I know I can effect a permanent cure by it."—A. A. Remillard, 414 East Fourth street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

AND CITY AT ERCY OF RIOTERS

LICE MAKE NO MOVE

ommander Cables That United States Warship Is on the Way.

POINTE A PITRE, Gaudeloupe, May .—Socialist ritoers have Pointe a Pitre t their mercy. The police are making no effort to stop the riots which began Sunday and which have nearly depopulated the city. The inhabitants are fleeing to the country, while the rioters are ransacking and destroying the abandoned residences. Business is at a standstill.

Troops continue to guard the various consulates, to which some residents have brought their jewelry and valuables, as the only safe place of deposit.

Appeal to United States.

The American Consulate is continually receiving appeals for protection from French and British residents, which goes to show the extent of the panic among the inhabitants.

There was an imposing ceremony on the occasion of the funerals of the victims of Sunday's riots. All the municipal officers attended and the municipal band headed the procession.

M. Boisenueff, a Radical candidate, who, at Sunday's elections, armed and defended himself when his house was attacked, has been imprisoned, together with all the members of his family. A number of inhabitants who have been directly threatened are preparing to defend their lives and property.

U. S. WARSHIP GOES TO GUADELOUPE CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Commander Southerland cables the Navy Department acknowledging receipt of the dispatch of yesterday telling him of the rioting in Guadeloupe. He says in his dispatch that he has sent one of the ships under his command from Dominican waters to Guadeloupe. It is not known exactly which ship he has selected for this duty, but it is thought at the Navy Department that he has sent the Scorpion.

Officers of the navy, however, are exhibiting no worry over the situation, and it was said this afternoon that France, which has a naval force in those waters, will be amply able to preserve order and prevent the destruction of property.

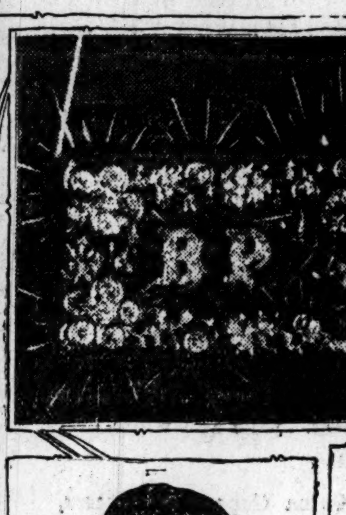
ELKS' LIFE MEMBERSIP CARD, GOLD AND DIAMONDS



SAM MAYER

Morris Herzog of the West End Hotel exhibited Tuesday to his friends in St. Louis the finest B. P. O. Elks' Lodge life membership card in the world. It is the property of Sam Mayer of Denver, Colo., father-in-law of Mr. Herzog.

The material, consisting of fine gold and diamonds, cost $3500, and the inside of the card is an exact reproduction of a life membership card of the Elks' Lodge.

The body of the card is solid gold and weighs 16 ounces. The face is set with 34 large diamonds, collectively weighing 20 carats. The letters, B. P. O. E., are set with 42 smaller stones, and in the center of the card is set one large blue-white diamond, weighing 3¼ carats. This diamond was formerly owned by Col. Carver, having been presented to him by the Prince of Wales of England.

BANKERS AS BOOMERS.

New Organization to Promote Southwest's Interests.

J. C. Van Blarcom, president of the National Bank of Commerce, is the author of a plan to organize St. Louis bankers into a club for the purpose of booming St. Louis and the Southwest. The idea met so much favor at the meeting of Group Seven of the Missouri Bankers' Association, that a committee of organization was immediately named.

The meeting, held Tuesday night at the St. Louis Club, was attended by 50 well-known financiers and by Secretary of State Swanger. Festus J. Wade, chairman of Group Seven, named, as a board of organization for the bankers' club, J. C. Van Blarcom, C. H. Huttig and Breckenridge Jones.

A movement to bring all the trust companies into the clearing house was indorsed.

The joint committee of the Westminster College Endowment Fund will send a subcommittee to all the Presbyterian churches in St. Louis next Sunday in their effort to collect $75,000 for the $325,000 fund in three weeks. The subcommittee is composed of Gen. George H. Shields, Ben H. Charles, W. P. Kennett, T. S. McPheeters and Judge Senden P. Spencer. At the meeting of the committee Tuesday night Chairman McPheeters reported that $25,000 of the $100,000 wanted from St. Louis had been pledged. He said a certain banker, whom he did not name, had given $10,000.

BARREL BEST PACKAGE.

But How About Package From Barrel?

Ladies whose husbands frequently bring home packages will be interested in the conclusion reached by the National Slack Cooperage Manufacturers' Association, now in session at the Southern Hotel, which has decided that the barrel is the best form of package.

M. C. Moore made the principal address on the subject, setting up that the barrel is more safe, sanitary and convenient, aside from being far more cleanly. Mr. Moore's speech was made by request of the committee on program, and was entitled "Barrels vs. Sacks." It made a great hit.

The association went autoing Wednesday after disposing of minor matters in open session. Relations between dealer and manufacturer and waste in manufacture were the chief subjects discussed.

Brewery Not in Combine.

Jacob B. Schorr and Henry W. Kolkschneider, proprietors of the Schorr-Kolkschneider Brewing Co., deny that they intend to enter the proposed combine of independent breweries in St. Louis. They said Tuesday: "Our brewery is not for sale, and will not be a party to any combine."

MORRIS AFTERNOON.

Art Committee of Woman's Club Arranges Entertainment.

The Art Committee of the Eighth District Federated Women's Clubs will be hostesses Friday at a "Morris afternoon,' to be given in the Dutch dining room at the Hamilton Hotel.

The Art Committee is headed by Mrs. T. E. Ferguson. Its purpose in giving the entertainment, to which all St. Louis club women and all persons interested in art are invited, is to stimulate interest in artistic subjects. William Morris will be the subject of papers in various phases of his work, and taffetas and wall papers copied from designs drawn by him will be on exhibition in the parlor adjoining the dining room.

Rabbi Leon Harrison will read a paper on "Morris, the Man of Letters and the Reformer;" Prof. Halsey C. Ives will talk of his influence on art; Mrs. H. M. Cole will discuss "Morris—the Craftsman;" Miss Stella Holloway will sing, and there will be other musical selections.

Assembly Clerks Tremble.

An addition of from 10,000 to 15,000 words will be made to the 253,000 words in the municipal code by William F. Woerner, former assistant city counselor, who is revising the code. The new code will be approved by the Municipal Assembly before becoming effective, and will have to be read by the clerks in each house. It is thought that the prodigious task of reading the entire code may be avoided by reading the captions alone. Mr. Woerner will receive $5000 for the work of revision.

BOND ISSUE IN DANGER FROM MEAGER VOTE

PREJUDICE IS STRONG

Proposition Should Be Explained Where Population Is Most Dense.

NEED OF A NEW BRIDGE

Hardly More Than One-Half of the Qualified Voters Go to the Polls.

Jeptha D. Howe, chairman of the St. Louis Republican City Central Committee, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter Wednesoay that the entire influence of his organization would be devoted to getting voters to the polls on June 12, the day set apart for the special election on the $11,200,000 bond issue, which includes an appropriation for a free bridge.

"Personally," said Mr. Howe, "I am heartily in favor of the bond issue, but I have never taken the matter up officially with the members of the City Central Committee. Our efforts up to this time have been confined solely to the matter of registering qualified voters. When that is done the duty of the central body is practically at an end.

"Of course, in an election we aim to get all the voters to the polls. But for some reason both organizations have failed to bring out the full vote or anything like the full vote.

"Now if the Republican or Democratic body, composed of skillful, experienced vote-getters, fall shy in an election, it is readily seen how vigilant and active must be the friends of the bond issue if they are to be triumphant.

Many Voters Do Not Vote.

"We have on the poll books 137,000 persons eligible to vote. How many availed themselves of this privilege at the last election? About 87,000. Where were the other 50,000?

"There are at least 150,000 voters in St. Louis, but in 10 years we have not been able to poll anything like the real voting strength of the city.

"In the Bryan-McKinley campaign of 1896 St. Louis polled 120,000 votes. But no such vote has been recorded since that time.

"Now, it requires two-thirds of all those voting to carry the bond proposition. That means if 90,000 votes are cast, 60,000 will be necessary to secure the adoption of the bond ordinance. If only 45,000 are cast then 30,000 would be sufficient.

"Recently the Republican City Central Committee has made a complete canvass of St. Louis. Every precinct has been tabulated by district leaders, and today we are getting together the nucleus of an organization that we believe will result in increasing the vote..

Citizens Favor Bond Issue.

"But that of course pertains to things political. I believe every citizen with the pride of his city at heart desires the bond issue. I believe every workingman, every clerk, every banker, every lawyer, and even every politician, believes the salvation of the commercial supremacy or St. Louis lies in freedom from the ever-tightening coils of the competition-throttling terminal monopoly.

"That we need greater and better terminal facilities than we now have no one will dispute. That something must be done to rid the city of the bridge arbitrary does not admit of argument.

"I am not in favor of the details of the free bridge scheme—that is, how we are to build it and maintain it after we have obtained the necessary appropriation. But I care nothing at all about those details. It is enough for me to know that it is a move in the way of better terminal facilities. If it provides merely a wagon and pedestrian highway, it is worth having.

"Who doubts we need a new asylum, better streets and other improvements?

Prejudice Against Proposition.

"At the same time the advocates of the bond issue should not blind themselves to the fact that a prejudice does exist against their proposition.

"The belief is deep-rooted in some minds that the bond issue election is merely a cloak for high financiers to raid the city treasury. Not a few have the idea that some of our financial interests are going to make a large sum of money out of this thing. They think it simply means that certain persons will be clipping bond coupons at the expense of the taxpayers of St. Louis for years to come.

"Now all this may appear foolish to the intelligent voter. It may sound like rank nonsense to those of us who know better, but nevertheless there is such a sentiment prevailing and the sooner the campaign of education in behalf of the bond issue is carried into the byways of the city—down among the masses, 60 per cent of whom usually vote—the better it will be for the proposition.

Real Work Should Begin.

"Elections are not won in the downtown district, nor in the fashionable West End. Go to the thickest centers of population and there the heaviest vote will be found.

"For instance politicians will tell you that the old Ashley Building sent two voters to the polls where only one came from Vandeventer or like residence places.

The Republican City Central Committee will seek the aid of its active workers in this cause. That is to say, we will try to get the voters to the polls. When they are there it will be for them to say how they shall vote. I don't believe we have any right to dictate.

"It seems to me the bond issue election will be safe if every voter takes time to study out the proposition for himself. And he should take time if he cares anything at all for New St. Louis."

LAD INJURED IN SCHOOL FIGHT AND HIS "LITTLE SWEETHEART"

Nine-Year-Old Ida Leib Mourns for Her "Little Sweetheart."

Pretty, flaxen-haired, 9-year-old Ida Leio mourns because of the injury to her "little sweetheart," Willie Gilleran, 8 years old of 1010 Lynch street, who was taken from his home to the Lutheran Hospital Wednesday.

Willie's skull was fractured in a fight among schoolboys a week ago. Pieces of the shattered bone are buried in the brain, and, even if he gets well, he may lose the use of his right eye.

At first his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Gilleran, did not think he was badly hurt. He went to school the next day, but became ill there. Since then he has been delirious most of the time.

The operation which will be performed at the hospital is a most dangerous one, and the little fellow has only a fighting chance to recover.

Struck With a Stone.

Willie was struck with a stone by one of his own "crowd" during a scrimmage between parochial school and public school boys last Wednesday.

He was on his way home from the Assumption School, at Ninth and Sidney streets. With half a dozen other pupils at the school, he passed a vacant lot, where larger boys were playing ball.

Sarcastic remarks were exchanged, and one of the boys with Willie hurled a stone. Willie stepped in front of his companion just as the stone left the latter's hand, and was struck above the right eye.

He ran home, and his mother called a physician, who said that the injury appeared to be only a scalp wound. When fever set in Dr. George Krebs was called. He found that the boy's skull was fractured.

Willie is well known in South St. Louis as a juvenile vaudeville performer. With Ida Leib and with his 5-year-old sister, Katie, he has appeared at many entertainments, and has frequently won prizes at fancy dress balls.

He was a favorite with the other pupils at the Assumption School, many of whom have been in almost constant attendance on him since he was hurt.

STEEL PLANT VISITED.

Railway Foremen to See New System of Welding.

The members attending the convention of the Railway General Foremen's Association will Wednesday afternoon visit the plant of the Commonwealth Steel Co. There they will witness a demonstration of the thermit system of welding. In the evening entertainment will be furnished at the Hotel Jefferson.

The program of papers for the convention is: "The Duties of the Foreman," G. W. Keller; "Broken Frames," C. H. Voges; "Pooling Engines," J. C. Wilkinson; "Electric Lights," A. S. Abbott; "Motive Power by Electricity," L. H. Raymond; "Cause of Leaky Flues," B. E. Greenwood; "Qualities of a First-Class Roundhouse and Division Foreman," G. H. Gates, and "Pooling of Engines," W. H. Graves.

After all papers have been read and discussed, the annual election of officers will be held.

POLICE HOLD BEST MAN, BUT BROKER WEDS

NEW YORK, May 9.—A wedding planned to take place at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Little Church Around the Corner was enveloped in gloom by the arrest shortly before the appointed hour, on a charge of embezzlement, of the bridegroom-to-be and the selected best man. Between them they managed to scrap up $5000 as bail and the male principal in the event broke all records from the Center Street Court to the edifice made famous by so many sensational weddings.

Victor Freeman had planned, as he explained to Magistrate Wahle and the detectives, to marry the prettiest girl in New York at 5 o'clock. Rufus A Evans, Freeman's business partner, had been selected as best man. Evans was compelled to remain in the Tombs during the ceremony, because of his yielding up to his partner every cent he could command.

The bride is Miss Lela Shaw, daughter of Alice Shaw, the famous whistler. The wedding was shrouded in mystery, and every effort was made to conceal the identity of the bride, who, by the sudden arrest, was deprived of a long-contemplated European wedding trip.

Freeman and Evans are brokers and also are in the lumber business, with an office in the Whitehall Building. Shortly before noon Inspector McLaghlin received a telegram from the Chief of Police of Chicago requesting him to arrest the lumber merchants on a charge of embezzling $13,000. There were no particulars in the telegram.

Detectives had no difficulty in making the arrest, but the partners almost fainted away when told they were under arrest.

"You can't arrest me," cried Freeman. "Why, I'm going to be married at 5 o'clock. I've got to be there."

Pool Assets for Bail.

The distress of Freeman and Evans was so genuine that the four sleuths hustled them to the Police Court to give them a chance to get bail. Time flew with remarkable rapidity, while Freeman telephoned and sent messengers. At last he and Evans, by pooling their assets produced $5000. Magistrate Wahle fixed bail at that amount and allowed Freeman to go to his wedding. He had tickets on the Baltic for himself and bride, and was to have sailed today on a honeymoon trip to Erope, but he won't unless he forfeits his bail bond. The examination was set down for a week from today.

Freeman was found by a reporter this morning.

"My arrest was unjustifiable," he said. "I was utterly surprised, and so was my partner. It was like an assassin's stab in the back. With Rufus A. Evans and his brother Jack I have been for several years associated in various deals, chiefly in timber.

"The only thing I can possibly surmise as the origin of this trouble is a plot to destroy the reputation of Jack Evans, who is interested, and has been for years, in politics in Chicago. He has been identified with the Harrison faction. He has made bitter enemies and they have probably taken this way of getting even.

"I bought my passage for Europe on May 3 for Mr. and Mrs. Freeman. Here it is. Because certain samples did not arrive here on time I had to postpone the departure until the sailing of the Baltic, at 6 o'clock in the morning. Here is my return passage on the Amerika of the Hamburg-American line, for June 21. That don't look as if we were running out of the country. And Evans never intended to go away at all.

"If my counsel advises it I shall go right to Chicago today and see what this outrage means. My wife will go with me.

"I have not been in Chicago more than a few hours at a time for years, and Evans has not been there lately. We have no outstanding liabilities except some small obligations in the way of legitimate commercial paper, for less than $14,000, the amount we are charged with embezzling. We have no money intrusted to us to invest, and how we could have embezzled it I cannot see. I have as much credit in five or six banks in this city as most men of my age.

"I have nothing but the reputation that I have built up by years of hard work, and this arrest in an outrage."

Mr. Freeman said Mr. Evans would be bailed out as soon a spossible.

CHARGE AGAINST PAIR INVOLVES $13,000.

CHICAGO, May 9.—Mrs. Elise Moody, living in the Huntington Hotel, 167 Oakwood boulevard, makes the charges upon which Brokers Victor Freeman of New York and Rufus A. Evans of Cleveland were arrested in New York. She alleges that by false representations they induced her, on a plea of investing $13,000 in timber lands in Virginia, to turn that sum over to them. Later, she says, she discovered that the money was not invested and complained to the police.

ORATOR HUSSEY URGED TO SPEAK

Delegates Anxious to Hear New Demosthenes of Twenty-Second Ward.

Frank Hussey, the scrappy member of the House of Delegates who startled his fellow delegates by calling them "rum dums" and then nearly made them faint by announcing that oratory was on the decline in the House and that he was going to revive the noble art, evidently finds it easier to outline his theories of oratory than to put them into practice.

Mr. Hussey failed to show up at the House meeting Tuesday night to deliver his maiden speech in the Ciceronian style which he recommends. As a result many sarcastic remarks were made by the delegates who are not too friendly with the explosive gentleman from the Twenty-second Ward.

It was openly said by several that Mr. Hussey had "cold feet" and that he didn't show up to make his speech principally because he didn't know how.

"Hussey knows about as much about oratory," said one member "as I do about golf."

Hussey Urged to Orate.

So in order to find out if Mr. Hussey really can speak, a resolution was introduced by Mr. Coale calling upon Mr. Hussey to deliver a speech at the next meeting of the House and ordering that the occasion should be advertised, so that the galleries of the House may be filled with all who love oratory.

The resolution was received with much handclapping and laughter. It was referred to the Committee on Education and Labor amid more laughter.

"Be it resolved by the House of Delegates that the movement inaugurated by Mr. Hussey, the newly discovered Demosthenes of the Twenty-second Ward, to revive the noble art of oratory, receive the sympathy of all thinking and unthinking men.

"Be it further resolved, that Mr. Hussey also receive the sympathy of all.

"Be it further resolved, that Mr. Hussey be requested to deliver a speech at the next meeting of the House with that oratorical accompaniment of voice, intonation and gesture which he recommends; and that notice of this speech be printed in all the newspapers and the Mayor be urged to issue a proclamation with the view of filling the galleries of the House on that occasion with the lovers of oratory and orators.

"Be it further resolved, that Mr. Hussey be unanimously selected to succeed the Hon. Mr. Gazzolo, who has heretofore been known as the Demosthenes of the House."

FEAT IS WORKED OUT IN REPAIRS

A difficult and unusual engineering feat is being done at the old Postoffice Building at Third and Olive streets, where the upper part of a stone column 30 feet in circumference is being held suspended in midair 80 feet above the sidewalk while the lower part is being replaced with a new section of stone.

The work is being done by the Smith Construction Co., under the direction of Benson A. Appleward, a superintendent of construction in the Supervising Architect's office at Washington.

It was at first thought that it would be necessary to remove the entire pillar, though only the lower sections had disintegrated, but S. L. Smith figured out the plan of using timbers for the purpose of taking the weight off the pillar while the work is being done. Five carloads of heavy beams form the frame work around the top of the pillar.

Opinion General That Turkish Troops Will by Leaving Avert Clash.

ATHENS, May 9.—The British fleet, consisting of 21 warships, is lying at Piraeus with steam up.

It will be further augmented today by the arrival of the second crusier squadron commanded by Rear-Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg, which in November last was in American waters.

TURKEY EXPECTS TO WITHDRAW TROOPS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 9.—Frequent conferences have been held during the last few days between the members of the Cabinet in connection with the Anglo-Turkish dispute.

The general opinion is that Turkish troops will evacuate Tabah before the British ultimatum expires.

GERMAN AMBASSADOR RESCUES CAPTURED SHIP.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 9.—The arbitary detention of the German sailing ship Odysseus by the Turkish authorities recently threatened friction between Turkey and another European power, but the energetic action of the German Embassador, Baron von Bieberstein, quickly solved the difficulty.

The Odysseus was discharging her cargo at Chibuklu when she was boarded by the authorities and removed to Kavak, where she was anchored beneath the batteries, the Turks falsely claiming that the vessel had explosives on board.

The Ambassador protested urgently but unavailingly, whereupon he took a few sailors from the German guardship Doreley here, boarded the Odysseus, hoisted the diplomatic flag and took the ship from under the guns of Kavak to her dock at Chibuklu, where a watch was kept over her while she completed the discharge of her cargo. On returning to the embassy, the Ambasador found a State Councilor awaiting with apologies and explanations.

Inhabitants of Boscotricase Flee From Shocks—Earthquake Felt in Scotland.

TREMOR IN NEW YORK

NAPLES, May 9.—Vesuvius is again shooting out hot sand and cinders, and villagers of the volcano district are panic stricken.

Resina is shaken by earthquake shocks, and the inhabitants of Boscotrecase, who had been making an attempt to re-establish themselves in the ruins of the towns, have fled in terror.

Just before the eruption reached its present violent stage an English engineer named Mozer ascended Vesuvius. He got to within 80 yards of the opening of the crater, which he reports as being broken away for more than 400 feet below its normal height.

EARTHQUAKE TREMOR IN FLATBUSH, N. Y.

NEW YORK, May 9.—An earthquake tremor of very moderate force shook the Flatbush section of Brooklyn last evening.

Dr. Kenneth F. Junor and his wife were awakened from sleep by the swaying of their residence. The shock was noticed by other residents of Flatbush.

BLAMES BRICKLAYERS.

Building Trades Council Threatens Strike Friday.

Following the action of the Stonemasons' Union in voting to maintain its affiliation with the Building Trades Council it was announced Wednesday that unless the St. Louis members of the Bricklayers' International Union join the Building Trades Council by Friday there will be a general strike.

The five days' extension of the armistice between the Building Trades Council and the Master Builders' Association will end on that day.

The council now contends that the Bricklayers' Union is the only disturbing factor in the situation, and that if its members do not agree to work with the council, stonemasons' work on all buildings will be stopped Friday.

Another Baptist Governor?

The Baptist Young People's Union of St. Louis has promised its support to E. W. Stephens of Columbia for the governorship. The promise of support was made at the annual banquet of the organization Tuesday night at the Washington Hotel, at which Mr. Stephens was present and delivered an address. He was introduced by Prof. Howard G. Colwell. Other speakers were Rev. Claude Kelly of Kansas City and A. W. Payne.

TODAY'S BOND MEETING.

The sole object of the meeting of the civic and commercial organizations called by the Civic League at the Merchants' Exchange this afternoon is to organize a harmonious campaign for the bond issue. It will bring together men of diverse opinions with regard to specific points, but all are, from their standpoints, interested in the progress of St. Louis and in assuring the municipal advantages to be gained by the success of the bond propositions. All can work together to instruct the voters on the subject of the bonds and the improvements for which they provide and to bring out a full and fair expression of the popular will at the polls. Each can work harmoniously and earnestly for public ends.

The Post-Dispatch believes that every proposition in the bond ordinance is good for St. Louis. We believe that all should be supported by the voters. But we respect honest differences of opinion and we believe that, respecting these differences, a common working ground can be found by all elements for vigorous efforts to arouse the voters to an understanding of the issue and to a realization of its importance.

HAPPENED IN BOSTON.

A cook in a wealthy Boston family gave notice one day that she was to be married.

Instead of writing a paper for the club on the "Instability of Domestic Servants," the mistress arranged a grand reception in her parlors for the pair when they should return from the church. The affair was a great crush and a great success.

That night a dozen of the best cooks in Boston applied for service in the lady's kitchen. She engaged the best.

The moral of this simple story is obvious. By paying tribute to equality the Boston woman escaped the inconveniences of a crisis and the change from the old administration to the new was effected without a jar. The higher humanity pays.

But would it pay anywhere but in Boston?

EVASION BY PIPE LINE.

One of the advantages enjoyed by Standard Oil which Commissioner Garfield charges represents a conspiracy with railroads and which Messrs. Rogers and Archbold defined as a legitimate advantage obtained by foresight and wise investment, is the pipe line. The pipe line evades the interstate commerce law in transporting oil from one state to another or through several states, and the railroads give discriminating rates within the states..

But is not a pipe line a common carrier engaged in interstate commerce, and ought it not to be under the scope of the interstate commerce law? Perhaps an inquiry by the Government along these lines would be fruitful in checking monopoly. If the interstate commerce law can be evaded by a monopoly through the construction of tubes, pipes or tunnels running under cover through the states, it does not fully accomplish the end for which it was intended.

AN OBJECT LESSON.

The incoherency of the outburst of Standard Oil indignation from the President of the Syracuse University is the best illustration the country could have of the intention and necessary meaning of subsidies to "higher education" from monopolies, whose profits from violations of law are thus used in the attempt to control the country from the rear.

This "tainted money" in schools, libraries, colleges and universities has been accepted and explained by some as an evidence of good will to mankind on the part of their patrons, while by others it has been illustrated as fruits meet for repentance, brought to them as saints by sinners, repentant now and determined thus to redeem the past.

When the [illegible] comes, however, members of both these classes find themselves leashed, with the leash in the hands of the "philanthropists" who have enemies to be brought to bay.

While President Roosevelt has yet to prove that he is radically an enemy of monopoly as a practice both through the law and in violation of it, this incoherent baying from Syracuse University, when the owners of that institution slip the Chancellor's leash and set him on, is a timely illustration of what the monopolists expect from the whole pack they are attempting to organize with it.

When a President is now called an anarchist because he has mentioned the monopoly philanthropists in transmitting to Congress a mere report dealing with "indictable offenses," it is an advance suggestion of what is to be expected when the penalties of law are actually enforced. But regardless of such threats, it will be the lawless, not the representatives of law, who are brought to bay finally.

THE CZAR'S FOLLY.

The breakup of a meeting of some of the members of the new Russian Parliament assembled to discuss political questions in the hall of the Economic Society in St. Petersburg does not promise well for peaceful purposes.

The Czar appears to be in the temper which proved fatal to Charles the First and Louis XVI. He makes liberal promises and then qualifies them or retracts them. If he knows his own mind he has not will enough to follow it two days together.

Macauley said that a compromise between Charles and Cromwell's followers was impossible for a very simple reason: "The King could not be trusted." That was the reason why the French monarchy was abolished and Louis finally brought to the block. And if Nicholas does not take care he will go the way of his two predecessors in double-dealing.

If the members of a legislative body are at the mercy of the executive, and that executive a monarch who is trying to save an autocracy, they must make ready for extreme measures. The Czar may wake up some morning and discover that the Parliament has declared itself paramount. This will be revolutionary, but it was what was done in England and in France. If progress is not allowed to follow the path of legal growth and development, it will go the revolutionary way.

A CRY FOR HELP.

"If a parent is so poor that he must depend upon an infant child," said Gov. Folk in his Lexington address, "he is poor enough for the State to support him as a pauper. He should not be allowed to destroy the child mentally, physically and morally, as is the usual result when children are permitted to work in factories at such tender ages."

This is the dilemma offered in all the states which have compulsory education laws, as the Governor pointed out.

But Mr. Folk's own mode of escape is not attractive. He suggests that millionaires, instead of giving great libraries to cities and towns, might do a great service; "if the millions these libraries cost were given to the cause of education of the masses through the common schools the public benefit would be greater."

Are we, then, to rely upon millionaires to save the rising generation from ignorance and mental, physical and moral degradation?

State help on one side, millionaire help on the other—another dilemma. Is there no way to reinvigorate the principle of self-help and save society from sodden dependence?

We seem to be confronted by a problem which cannot be solved by prevailing modes of thought. But the American people will hardly resign the individual independence upon which their national greatness rests. We are not yet ready to confess that in the hour of political and economic victory we have to be supported by either the State or the millionaires.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

MOTHER AND NUN.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

If, as Annie Mosity says, the holy nun is the logical result of the good mother, the more good mothers we have, the more holy nuns there will be. And one is as holy as the other. TRUTH.

A HINT TO READERS.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The advice of the able logician, Rev. J. Balmer, in his observation on reading, to "read much, but not many books," seems opportune to the people of St. Louis.

According to the editorial in Saturday's paper, "The Reading Habit Increasing," "it is not what you read, but what you remember," should also be followed by strenuous readers. A second persual of a good book often proves more beneficial than the reading of a new one. MADALINE CARSON.

CHOOSES WEALTH.

Twenty years' experience teaches me to choose wealth, because

1. Happiness is impossible without wealth; you cannot be happy if you are broke.
2. Probably 80 per cent of men are naturally healthy and wealth conduces to health, but not necessarily vice versa.
3. Wealth cannot buy genuine love, but we know that when poverty comes in through the door love flies out of the window.
4. Revenge is not ours. Vengeance is mine, saith the Lord; I will repay. B. BUTLER.

TAXING LAND VALUES.

If wealth be the product of land, labor and capital, how does it happen that so many people suffer from want? My wages are mine, the interest on my capital is mine, but these two factors of wealth receive but a small share compared to that of land, which in the shape of rent goes to private owners.

If we make all labor products free, and take for society the interest on the value of coal, iron, copper and other mines, on that of water privileges, on all railroad rights of way, on franchise values owned by telephone, telegraph, gas and electric companies, take the interest on the value of city lots irrespective of improvements; and if plenty relieve want, how can involuntary poverty exist? Would this be just? If society made these values, we believe as did Father Ed. McGlynn, that Providence designed them for its maintenance. To accomplish this result, to make again all things public that God made, we have but to vote for a change in our system of taxation. The power to tax involves the power to destroy, said Chief Justice Marshall. The monopoly of natural opportunity of labor is no exception. MILKMAN.

STANDARD OIL NEWS.

(Exclusive Service From the Trust's New Press Agent.)

Mr. John D. Rockefeller is seriously considering President Roosevelt's suggestion that something should be done to bring about a more beneficial disposition of great fortunes.

Mr. Rockefeller has not formulated his plans, but it may be said with safety that he will not leave his money to his son and to those immediate beneficiaries to whom rich men confine their bequests. He has solicited suggestions, and a number of these are reaching him.

Mr. Rockefeller likes best a suggestion made to him yesterday by a Missourian. It contemplates a pro-rata division of the Rockefeller fortune among the people of the United States. The Missourian figures that at the time of Mr. Rockefeller's death the population of the United States will be some 100,000,000. At the same time, by his calculations, Mr. Rockefeller will have all the money there is. By the pro-rata plan, everyone will get a new start upon an equal footing.

Mr. Rockefeller thinks well of this.

Written for the Post-Dispatch

Chorus of Kansans:

The zephyrs kiss the trees,
The sun has kissed away the dew,
The flowers are kissed by bees.
The billiard balls kiss with a click,
The beau has kissed the belle,
And deaf-mutes kiss each other,

Enter Hoch, the Kisser.

Is it anybody's business if a statesman he should choose
To try to kiss a lady and the lady should refuse?

The Husband of the Lady:

The thing's exaggerated and it was a year ago,
And it really doesn't matter, for I'm not mad, you know.

Chorus of Kansas Ladies:

Hobson of Alabama:

You'd better build a prison and straightway put me in.
I always kiss the ladies, so why should it cause a shock

Andrew Carnegie:

There's two sides to a question, as I know very well;
I was lecturing on phonetics and they kissed me for a spell.

Gladstone Dowie:

One must be very careful, as I have always been;
No woman has ever kissed me on forehead, lips or chin.
And when the ladies tease me I tell them they must go

Chorus of Kansans:

Hoch for Hoch, the kisser! Skidoo for the sunflower!

Chorus of Anti-Kissers:

We denounce the practice from every point of view.

The Man With the Toothbrush:

Never mind the tariff, never mind the trusts;
Let us try the issue of the mustn'ts and the musts.
Let the kissers vote for kissing, for Hobson and for Hoch,

All:

It is hereby resolved that the great issue at stake in the next presidential campaign shall be, To kiss or not to kiss. The lineup is as follows:

KISSERS' TICKET.

For Vice-President—Hobson of Alabama.
Emblem—The Kissing Bug.

ANTI-KISSERS' TICKET.

A Popular Hero.

"Hi, Chimmie! What's de matter wid ye? Wat er ye so stuck up about?"

"Hain't ye heerd?"

"No. Wat it is?"

"Wy, de ole man's jes' got t'irty days fer stonin' a automobiler."

Force of Habit.

She: Why so?

He: He had played football for so long that he couldn't help kicking the balls.—Brooklyn Eagle

STORIES TOLD IN WASHINGTON

To a Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

"The orthodoxy of many of my Republican laborers in the House on the stand-pat principle," said Representative McCall of Massachusetts, "reminds me of the widow up in my State who kept a boarding house. She believed in hell fire and damnation and would not allow anybody who had any leanings towards universalism to stay with her. She was a strict constructionist in her theology.

"'Do you believe there is a hell?'

"'Certainly.'

"'Well, how many do you believe will go there?'

"The captain did not want to commit himself too much, so he replied: 'I guess about twenty thousand.'

"'Come in,' invited the widow. 'I will give you board. Twenty thousand is better than none.'"

Are We Being Effeminized?

From the World's Work.

In the United States there are at least a million more men than women, and only one-tenth of the women are at work outside of their own homes. Yet the stamp of the feminine mind is upon everything American, and in many of the higher phases of culture women take the initiative. This rule of women in the United States begins in our public schools, where boys and girls are educated together, and where the teacher is always, in the lower grades at least, a woman. In the great cities the feminine influence goes into every nook and cranny of social development. A woman has been suggested as mayor of Chicago, and the "civic creed" of Chicago was composed by a woman, and is recited every day by thousands of school children. Women compose very largely the reading public, and no current novel can succeed without their patronage. Some of the most successful magazines are devoted to their interests exclusively, and those given to scientific and philosophic discussions seldom exist long, or they become the organs of small and detached organizations of men. Art exhibits are conducted by women, and women hold executive offices in world's fair committees. They serve as chairmen of schoolboards, and they torment, through their municipal leagues, the party leaders. They are notable charity workers, and they have made reputations as doctors, lawyers, magazine editors, newspaper reporters, preachers, political speakers and labor organizers and agitators. Indeed, where in the United States do we not find the woman, with her influence, battering at all doors?

ON THE SUBURBAN TRAIN

By Clark McAdams.

"I SEE Congressman Perkins says in defense of the pie that the Pilgrim Fathers were great pie eaters," said the Insurance Man, looking up from his morning paper.

The Brakeman came in with the Base Burners, and the Wholesale Druggist began warming his bottle of coffee with a sun glass.

"I don't believe people eat pies as much as they did," he said. "I was saying to my wife last night that pies and doughnuts seem to have lost their grip."

"I always did say there is only one part of a doughnut that is safe," said the Steamboat Man, "and that is the center."

The train rattled out of the yards, and the commuters tried to laugh at the quips of the funeral directors; but they couldn't do it. That's a grewsome business, and the man who will make a joke on it hasn't the taste of a goat.

"Speaking of foods," said the Insurance Man, whose interest in his paper had been ditched in the railroad column, "I was reading the other day that science no longer accepts the brain-food theory. For instance, fish is no longer considered a brain food."

"I'm glad the scales have dropped from their eyes," said the Boss Printer. "There is such a thing as brain food, however. It's the food you don't eat. Caesar said: 'Yond' Cassius has a lean and hungry look; he thinks too much; such men are dangerous,' and the head of Caesar was a great roundhouse for horse sense. What did Grant eat during the whole six days of the battle of Spottsylvania? An apple."

The pleasant fields streamed past the windows, and the Steamboat Man laid siege to the Boss Printer's nickel. The train rocked a little more than usual, and the Wholesale Druggist shifted his hard-boiled eggs to the coat pocket away from the wall.

"I see a man in New York was beaten up by a crowd and given six months for kicking a U. S. flag in the streets," said the Insurance Man.

"Sort o' gave him the stars and stripes treatment," said the Boss Printer. "I like to see"—

SOCIALISM IN AMERICA

Co-operation Versus Competition.

Socialists advocate collective ownership of the industries in order that the users may co-operate as owners for the benefit of all. The logical motto of co-operation is "all for each and each for all." Competition implies "every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost." Under the present system of private ownership of the means of life necessity compels countless thousands to become the slaves of greedy and avaricious industrial despots.

Socialists desire that exact justice be secured for each and every member of society. They realize that unless every man, woman and child are protected in their God-given rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, no one is safe from the despotism of greed and the lust of power.

Socialists believe that each adult member of society should have an equal voice in determining how they should be governed, and that in all cases the majority should rule. They are opposed to government by injunction, indirection or appointment; also, they are opposed to concentration of power or authority.

Socialists believe in the perfection of law and its impartial enforcement.

The honest investigator who is seeking knowledge concerning Socialism will come to the socalists, and not to their opponents, for information. A Democrat does not go to a Republican to find the definition of the word Democrat. Resort to recognized authorities—dictionaries, encyclopedias, etc., will help a great deal in solving the question: "What is socialism?"

W. W. BAKER.

NEW YORK VIEWS.

Written to the Editor of the World.

From the President of Stanford University.

There is no doubt that Socialism in some form will become an issue of some national party before long. In my judgment, Socialism as a permanent state of society is inconceivable, and its advocates would split into a hundred minor parties if they came to the test of practical action. But moving step by step toward public ownership is practicable, whether desirable or not, and each step should be considered on its merits.

DAVID S. JORDAN.

"An Industrial Question."

Socialism is entirely an industrial question. It has been forced into being by the unequal returns to labor produced by legalized robbery through private monopoly. Socialism is the expression of a demand that private monopoly be made public monopoly. Industrial justice is attained when all workers secure an equivalent return for their labor. This is possible when monopoly is open to none or is free to all. The unequal returns are now shown forth in the billions accruing to private monopolists and the bread-and-water standard of living for those completely on the outside. Some industries are more easily and quickly monopolized than others, and some are not susceptible to private monopoly at all. The means of production and distribution are privately owned; through this employment is controlled and the wage and vote dictated. Thus the competitive industrial system has ceased to exist; the people have been plundered and deprived of liberty and the country betrayed.

It is in the constitution of things that only the law of supply and demand can determine the equivalent return to all. There are two ways to establish it: Retain the competitive system and totally eliminate monopoly (including public monopoly); this is an utter impossibility. Second, make monopoly public.

When a few industrial units broke the industrial bond binding upon all by refusing to compete, they became guilty of industrial treason, and it is proper for the people in their governmental capacity to war upon and compete with them industrially by the production and sale of commodities and smash them, just as they do all other public enemies. This is the proposition of the Socialists.

Precise Definition Desired.

"Socialism means a higher, more precise, orderly and scientific method of government for the benefit of mankind than has hitherto prevailed."—Original edition of Webster's Dictionary.

A mere outline of scientific Socialism as distinguished from Utopian and speculative cannot be given in 300 words.

The Republican and Democratic parties have given at various times an example of their administrations of government whenever the people placed the power in their hands. It would manifestly be unjust to these political parties to accept as their declarations and dogma the oral or written definitions of their principles given by any authority except that of a representative national convention, and then only after a referendum vote, which is not obtainable in either party except by a general election.

In the Socialist Labor party and through its collectively owned press this is obtainable. Hence its political platform, which I inclose and hope you may publish as a separate contribution to the discussion you have invited, is the only authentic expression in a constitutional sense of scientific Socialism. Its press, the Daily and Weekly People, and its New York Labor News Co., are the property of the organized Socialists of the United States. Its papers and other literature are published in various languages under the authority of its national executive and are not upon a profit basis.

The word "Socialist" has come, like the word "Liberal" in Great Britain, in a vulgar sense to mean any old thing that comes down the pike with a grievance. Thomas Kirkup, M. A., in Encyclopedia Britannica, gives in the conclusion of his exposition, a fair presentation of scientific Socialism. "The Industrial Workers of the World" is the organized economic expression of class-conscious Socialist workingmen.

M. D. FITZGERALD.

Beneficent and Objectionable Socialism.

Doubtless it is the nationalization of municipilization of these private functions that is usually thought of when Socialism is objected to; and because the supply of water, light and street-car service is thought of as the same as storekeeping and manufacturing, public ownership and operation of this kind of service also are considered as Socialistic. But service of the latter kind is not private, like storekeeping and manufacturing. It is public, like tax-levying, legal administration, police and fire protection and highway maintenance.

The test of public or private service is easily applied. A private service is one which anybody and everybody may render unless prohibited by government, whereas a public service is one which nobody can render unless permitted by government. In the latter category are municipal lighting, water supply and street-car service, as well as the police, the courts, the tax office, etc. Government must either farm out the latter functions or perform them itself. They are, therefore, public functions, and their performance by the public is not Socialism unless public performance of private functions is something else. If, however, Socialism means the resumption by our government of the public functions they have been accustomed to farm out, the relation of Socialism to American institutions cannot but be a beneficial one.

But the distinction noted above should be always borne in mind. If we municipalize private and public functions indiscriminately we tend toward objectionable Socialism. If we leave public and private functions alike to private enterprise we tend toward anarchy. But if we leave private functions to private enterprize and municipalize public functions, we tend toward that democracy which is the ideal of American institutions—namely, individual freedom in private affairs and people's government in public affairs.

LOUIS F. POST.

Chicago, April 30.

"Everybody Works for Everybody."

Socialism means the public ownership of the means of production and distribution. Under Socialistic government everything is owned by the public, consequently everybody works for everybody. This co-operative commonwealth will enable every individual to secure the necessities of life and to live, where now few live and many only exist. As nature creates enough to house, clothe and feed all the people, there is no reason why few should own all and many should be in want. When justice, right and a livelihood for all take the place of charity, poverty, greed and crime, then we shall have Socialism. Socialism stands for the inalienable rights of the people of which the Constitution speaks, life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, instead of misery, wage slavery and want. Therefore it need not be feared nor hated. It is as well an American as a world-wide movement which knows no boundaries, race, creed or war, but means the brotherhood of men and peace to the entire world.

Sometimes when Mother goes away,
Father and I have such good play.

Why, even when it's time for bed,
He lets me play at making bread.

(We laugh and try to fool each other—
Making believe we don't miss Mother!)

I play the flour is Arctic snows;
And my two hands are Eskimos

Building a little hut or trail.
Then we take water from the pail,

And make a soft and plumpy dough.
I pat it, and I knead it—so.

Then Father laughs, and shakes his head,
And says, That's funny-looking bread!"

And I laugh back at him and say:
"The chickens like it, anyway!"

Father and I are truly chums;
(But, my! we're glad when Mother comes!)

All Twenty-Six Letters.

Most boys and girls, no doubt, have tried, at one time or another, to make a short sentence that would contain all the 26 letters of the alphabet. The task would be an easy one, of course, if there were no restriction as to the sense of the expression, but with that restriction, a good deal of thinking is necessary. Here are two sentences in which the 26 letters are all used, but some of them are used several times:

John quickly extemporized five tow-bags.

The constructor of this remarkable specimen establishes its claim to expressing sense by explaining that a milkman had a cowpen at the wharf, and that he one day wired that message to his son, who was in charge there.

THE WOMAN'S CORNER

Fallieres' Wonderful Wife.

President-elect Fallieres of France started life with an excellent head for politics, but he was notoriously easy-going and inactive; he lacked ambition. He would have been perfectly contented probably to live and die a respected lawyer or the paternal Mayor of a sun-drowsy southern town. But one day at a ceremony at Nerac an old priest predicted that the Mayor would become President of the Republic. Madam took fire at the thought. Why should he not become President?

She established at Nerac a true political salon on old-fashioned lines. She toiled unobstrusively to make her husband significant all over the countryside. She surrounded him with useful friendships and deftly shunted off acquaintances whom the unsuspecting man trusted, but who his clairvoyant wife foresaw were likely to retard his progress. She was all the more resolute in realizing her ambition because she was determined to justify herself for having married a man at whom her family sneered as a crack-brained revolutionist; at least one of a mind far from serious, for Fallieres as a youth was exceptionally frolicsome and as a student unfailingly failed in his examinations.

Fine china plates, saucers and sauce dishes, whether decorated or not, are better for having pads between them when piled. If white felt circles are not available, squares of ordinary clean blotting paper will answer the purpose.

To improve the flavor of after-dining coffee rub the lumps of sugar with a piece of lemon peel. For tea the sugar should be rubbed with orange peel.

A well-known French dressmaker has been reported to ask his patrons to stand with hands tightly clasped when he is fitting a skirt, in order to secure the figure as it is when the woman walks. He also has her sit down for at least one fitting of the bodice in order to be perfectly sure of the neck, armholes and back.

Dr. Anna Shaw has gone to Oregon, where she will be busy until the middle of June conducting a campaign for woman's suffrage. Dr. Shaw is the successor of Miss Anthony as president of the National Association of Woman Suffragists.

Married or Unmarried?

An unusual issue was raised in the recent city election at Anadarko, O. T. The fight over members of the School Board was based solely on the question of whether married women should be employed as teachers in the public schools, to the exclusion of the unmarried teachers, who need the money.

Helen Gould's Table Roses.

Miss Helen Gould has attained the acme of artistic effects in table decorations. Flower lovers will defy you to find more artistic designs anywhere than grace her home. She is one of those who object to elaborate arrangements of flowers for table use. No roses with mangled and twisted stems are shown upon her board, but erect and stately, fresh and fragrant, they stand, their roots embedded in earth, and nod their blooming buds over snowy napery and glittering glass. One of her favorite decorations is the baby primrose, which gives to the table that charm of which wildwood flowers are supposed to have the monopoly. It is modest, but its pale lilac and yellow blossoms are dainty and beautiful.—What-to-Eat.

JAP-A-LAC
A STAIN AND VARNISH COMBINED
Renews the finish on everything about the home from cellar to garret, proving the greatest factor in HOUSECLEANING ECONOMY
If you are not already moving or cleaning house, you will probably do one or the other soon. Every time you do either, your furniture becomes more or less scratched and marred. You may frequently be tempted to discard a piece of furniture because of its shabby appearance. JAP-A-LAC is made especially for the purpose of saving such articles. Take a chair or table for instance,—almost any kind will cost you at least $2.00 or $3.00. If you discard an old one, you will be compelled to buy a new one to take its place. You can JAP-A-LAC the old one at a cost of 15c and save the difference. There is absolutely nothing else made which will equal JAP-A-LAC for its beauty, durability, ease of application, and non-fading qualities.
JAP-A-LAC is colored with the best pigment,—pigment is the only coloring substance used in coloring paint or varnish, which will not fade. Cheap imitations of JAP-A-LAC, which are colored with aniline, have recently been sold under other names, (frequently names containing the word LAC); and although they sometimes produce beautiful results when first applied, they soon fade and lose their brilliancy, because aniline is nothing but a dye.
Ask your dealer about JAP-A-LAC. If you want the rich, smooth finish which is produced by this superb article only,—insist on geting JAP-A-LAC.

LOST AND FOUND

IF YOU LOSE ANYTHING—Advertise it here. It will be returned to you if an honest person finds it. Remarkable recoveries are brought about every day through this column. All druggists receive Want Ads for the Post-Dispatch at office rates.

IF YOU FIND ANYTHING—Bring it to the Post-Dispatch Lost and Found Bureau, 210-212 North Broadway. Get a claim check for it. Have it advertised. Reclaim it if the owner does not.

THE LAW—People who find lost articles are interested in knowing that the State law (sections 8475 to 8489, Revised Statutes of Missouri, 1899) is strict in requiring them to seek the owners through advertisement and otherwise, and that a failure to do so involves a severe penalty if same can be proven.

"A MAN MUST KEEP HIS MOUTH OPEN

And a man, nowadays, stands the same chance of "getting things" without advertising as the seeker of roast pigeon in the proverb.

MEDICAL electricity in curing human ills. All the balsams, oils and minerals in existence are contained in electricity. No medicine can do as much for the system as a scientific electric belt properly used. Eminent physicians and surgeons of the United States and Europe recognize electricity as the great panacea for all chronic diseases. Prof. C. S. Hardman's world's greatest scientific powerful quadruple-strength electric belt, the magic cure, the lightning specific, most powerful electric belt made. $1000 forfeit if you cannot instantly, pleasantly, painlessly feel currents of electricity coursing through your blood and nerves as soon as applied; electric power very strong; by putting negative electrode between the eyes and touching positive electrode with the tongue you instantly feel the electricity and see the lightning; stimulates, quickens to life and activity primary organs of purification (liver and kidneys). World's greatest remedial discovery, pain killer, disease eliminator. After 30 days' treatment your eyes begin to sparkle; brings back the pink glow to pale cheeks; you see your nerves and muscles enlarging and regaining elasticity and fire of early youth; you feel like Ajax defying the lightning; cures rheumatism, nervous diseases, stomach, heart liver, kidney, female troubles, pains in chest and back, St. Vitus' dance, dyspepsia, headache, severe colds, feeble circulation, insomnia, la grippe. Call and get 30 minutes' electrical treatment free. Further particulars free. Prof. C. S. Hardman, 2014 Olive st., 1st floor. Hours: 1 to 6 p. m.

COOKED POTATOES WITH JACKETS ON

Husband Disliked Them That Style, So He Sued for a Divorce.

Henry L. Allcorn of 4222 Cleveland avenue thinks Circuit Judge Foster should give him a divorce from Mrs. Mary Allcorn because she cooked potatoes with the jackets on when she well knew that the only way he liked potatoes was with the jackets off. She also rendered his condition intolerable in that, to wit: she let the steak lie in the frying pan until she cooked the rest of the things when she well knew that he liked his steak about medium and cooked quick.

These and other interesting shortcomings of his wife are recited by Mr. Allcorn in a deposition filed Wednesday in Judge Foster's court in relation to his petition for divorce.

He alleges in his petition that his wife wouldn't cook what he wanted nor the way he wanted it cooked. After testifying that he had threatened to change his boarding place before his wife did any better in this respect, he was asked to particularize.

Cooked Steak Too Long.

"Well," he said, "one thing in particular—the potatoes. I can't eat them when they are cooked with the jackets on and that's the only way she would cook them. I told her they would go out in the alley the next time they came on the table."

He was asked about the meat and said: "Take steak for instance. I wanted that cooked, well, about medium. I wanted it cooked quick, too. She put it in the frying pan and let it lay there until she cooked everything else and it was not fit to eat when it came on the table.

"I went to a good deal of trouble to tell her what kind of food I wanted and how I wanted it fixed. I would buy what I wanted and bring it home, and she wouldn't cook it, or in such manner that I couldn't eat it. She was a good cook, if she chose to be, but she never did prepare any dish to please me in all the time that we lived together.

"My brother, who lived with us, was a pretty good cook himself. He tried to show her how to prepare food the way we liked it, but she wouldn't listen to him. She said 'I am used to people eating what I set before them.' "

He was asked if they ever had company. "Yes," he said. "When we had company I was glad to see them because I usually got something that I could eat. That was the only time I did, too. She knew how to cook; that was demonstrated whenever we had company."

Mr. Allcorn also says his wife was a fine fault-finder. "She began the day after we were married," he said, "and found fault with everything I did, said, ate or wore. Opposition was the keynote of her disposition. Fault-finding was a disease with her."

Would Not Let Him Sleep.

Mr. Allcorn also complains that his wife would not let him sleep in the daytime when he came in from his run as a railway mail clerk. He told about the last time that this happened. He told her when he retired, he said: "Now, then, don't you wake me up under any circumstances today. If the house gets afire, wait until this room gets to burning and then call me, but don't otherwise."

Inside of two hours she awakened him, although the house had not caught fire, to ask him some trivial question. He got up and dressed and told her he was going to rent a room where he could sleep. After that she didn't disturb him.

Mr. Allcorn says his wife struck him once. He was asked if it wasn't just a playful blow and said: "Hardly. If I'd strike a person as playfully as she struck me it would be a pretty big man if it didn't knock him down."

He was displeased with her, also, because whenever he proposed to do anything at all she always wanted to consult her cousins or her uncle about it.

They were married June 25, 1901, at Kansas City. They separated in August, 1905. During their married life they lived most of the time at 6724 Marmaduke avenue.

FLED FROM HOME; INJURED FOR LIFE

Edward Wendt Jr. of 5047 Idaho avenue will be injured for life because he tried to gratify his desire to see the world. His father Edward Wendt Jr., returned Wednesday from Quincy, Ill., where the boy, 17 years old, is in St. Mary's Infirmary with both legs cut off by a freiht train he tried to board.

Edward ran away from home two weeks ago. He had a good time at first, but after a while he found "tramping" less pleasant than he had expected. At Hannibal, Mo., he decided to board a freight train for Quincy. The train he selected had more than forty cars. He allowed three or four to pass, then made a dive for a step. He missed, and fell under the train.

Edward did not lose consciousness. He lay there and watched the rest of the cars run over him. A special caboose was attached to an engine and he was sent to Quincy. It was two hours before he was placed on an operating table, and his mind remained clear during that time. The right leg was cut off above the knee and the left below.

As soon as the boy is well enough to be moved, his father will bring him back home.

Commerce and Commonwealth Trust Are Both Well Taken.

Speculative sentiment was improved on the local stock exchange today and the list was active and firm throughout. Prices showed a good demand prevalent in the list and the tendency was distinctly upward.

United Railways preferred was higher on sales at $83.62½, and common stock was wanted at $55.50, and offerings at $56. The bonds were higher at $87.37½ bid.

An improved demand was prevalent in the bank and trust list, and National Bank of Commerce sold at $325. State National Bank sold at $195, and Mississippi Valley Trust was taken at $347.50. Commonwealth was active at $324.75.

OPENING IS LOWER, CLOSING IS HIGHER

NEW YORK, May 9.—Irregularity marked the opening of the securities market today, some issues showing an advancing tendency, while others recorded small declines. The trading was more professional than at the opening yesterday, and as yet commission houses are taking little part in the speculation.

News over night was unimportant and should exert little influence either way. London sent an irregular range on Americans.

The Day's Market.

Consols were higher for both accounts in the foreign market, but as yet foreigners have failed to follow our advance consistently. The irregularity in London today may be attributed to the beginning of settlements, perhaps, but there was not much in the late news of importance. The return of Mr. Harriman from San Francisco is regarded as an event that is not unlikely to help the market. A good bank statement is expected this week, which will tend to rectify the statements of the past two weeks. The advance in demand sterling is not regarded seriously, inasmuch as a temporary cessation of gold imports will not work any ill effect. There is some improvement now noticeable in the bond market. The anthracite miners will resume tomorrow and the coal strike situation will cease to be a market factor. This will remove one of the greater menaces to higher prices, and its effect on future market conditions has by no means been discounted, in the past few days. It is naturally hard for speculators to be convinced that the situation has righted itself so quickly while pessimism was rampant a little less than a week ago, but it just happens that when things were at their worst the adverse factors, such as the coal strike and high money rates were adjusting themselves and nobody was in a position to realize it. This is the reason that the recovery from the low point on the decline has been so pronounced. The general market situation was being righted, while panic was in the air. Price movements were irregular after the first hour and selling to realize profits dropped the range over a point below the closing of yesterday. Special securities were firm, and American Smelting made a gain on reports that the dividend on this issue is to be increased at the next dividend period. Union Pacific reflected some selling on reports from traffic officials that the company's returns are beginning to reflect the first effects of the Frisco fire. The copper and steel securities reduced good absorption. Crop reports continue favorable and in Minnesota and the Dakotas the spring wheat seeding is practically completed. The states will show a gain in acreage over 1905 of 5 to 10 per cent. Money loaned in the early market at 4 per cent.

The Closing.

A burst of bullish enthusiasm carried prices upward after the noon hour and the entire list rose an average of over a point above yesterday's closing before any stock was encountered. Rumors were in circulation that the lake strike would be settled in a few hours and commission houses showed a tendency to advise purchases for the first time since the decline was inaugurated. The metal stocks rose buoyantly all along the line and Copper, Colorado Fuel and Smelting were conspicuous features. Moderate realizing was encountered at the high line, but the close was active at the higher price level.

LIVESTOCK.

CATTLE—Receipts, 3000. Some good to choice kind and quite a number of common and medium grades were included in today's supply on which the market was active at steady prices.

Laundry Trust Puzzled Him.

Defending a suit for $2.96 brought by the Peerless Laundry in Justice Spaulding's court Wednesday, L. M. Howell of 2135 Carr street said: "Your Honor, they formed a laundry trust and they got me so mixed up I didn't know whom to pay the money to." The Judge didn't think this was sufficient reason, and he entered a judgment against Howell.

WHEAT FUTURES ARE VERY FIRM

The tendency of wheat was upward again today, although the trading was confined largely to the professional element. The shorts were the best buyers at all times and commission houses purchases showed little if any improvement.

News from the growing wheat belt, while conflicting was on the whole favorable with the crop damage reports coming to hand, mostly from the unimportant sections. Spring wheat seeding is reported as practically completed in Minnesota and the Dakotas and the crop acreage shows an increase of 5 to 10 per cent.

Foreign markets were without influence on domestic markets and Liverpool prices closed unchanged on wheat and ¼d higher on corn. Paris and Antwerp wheat closed unchanged and Berlin and Budapest barely steady.

Local receipts continue liberal, with the shipments moderate. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 87 cars, against 212 last week, 98 last year and 62 two years ago. Winnipeg reported 144 cars, against 57 last year, and Minneapolis stocks decreased 500,000 bu for the past four days.

A better feeling prevailed in the cash markets and all good wheat is finding ready purchasers. No wheat has been delivered on May contracts in this market or Kansas City and a good-sized short interest is thought to be still outstanding in the May option. Clearances of wheat and flour were 243,000 bu.

Corn was steady in this market, although Chicago futures showed an easy range. Export and domestic demands continue fair. Clearances were 257,000 bu.

Oats were quiet but steady in the face of a very light speculative demand throughout the session.

St. Louis receipts and shipments—Wheat, 39,273 bu; corn, 132,075 bu; oats, 81,000 bu. Shipments—Wheat, 43,795 bu; corn, 56,050 bu; oats, 79,380 bu.

HAY—Receipts, 700 tons local and 230 tons through. Shipments, 360 tons. Quote hay, timothy, choice, $15@15.50; No. 1 timothy, $14@14.50; No. 2, $12@12.50; choice clover, $14; No. 1 clover, $12@13.50; No. 2 clover, $11@11.50; No. 1 clover mixed, $13@14; No. 2 clover mixed, $11.50@12.50.

FLOUR—Receipts, 8150 sacks; shipments, 7730 sacks. Quote soft winter flour, patents, $4.20@4.50; straight, $3.90@4.10; extra fancy, $3.70@3.85, foregoing in wood; in jute (Nebraska and Iowa), 15@25c lower per bbl than Kansas; Kansas, hard winter, patents, $3.50@3.75; straight, $3.25@3.40; first-clearing, $2.70@2.90; second-clearing, $2.25@2.50.

DOWIE WINS IN COURT CONTEST

Committee of Three Will Take Charge of Zion City Finances.

MIND FAILING, SAYS SON

Judge Intimates That "Leaves of Healing" Will Be Suppressed.

BELVIDERE, Ill., May 9.—Control of the financial interests of Zion City will be vested in a commission of three persons until the temporary injunction issued by Judge Wright is passed upon. This proposition was submitted to Dowie and Voliva by Judges Wright and Donnelly. The hearing of the issue was begun before the judges today. The result is a victory for Dowie.

Gladstone Dowie was a subject of interest during the argument. Two or three times he was called to the bench. One of these interviews related to the health of John Alexander Dowie. Gladstone told Judge Donnelly that he believed his father to be in a very serious mental condition and told about a swelling of his lower extremities, indicating dropsy or diabetes.

Both sides were represented by numerous attorneys. P. C. Healy, in behalf of Dowie, asked that Washington Judd and others, of Chicago, be sent to Jail for contempt of court for selling office furniture belonging to Dowie. Voliva's counsel offered to get the furniture back and the point was passed.

Healy argued that Dowie was entitled to the exclusive use of Shiloh Tabernacle and asked that the Court so rule. He declared that Voliva, instead of using it for the religious purposes for which it was intended, was using it for the vilification of Dowie, in an effort to destroy Dowie's character. He also asked the Court to suppress "Leaves of Healing," the official Zion publication, claiming that its columns were being used to make infamous attacks on Dowie. He said: "We want an injunction to prevent Dowie from being publicly outraged."

Agree on Commission.

Attorney Newman, for Voliva, said the vital point to settle was a plan to keep the Zion interests running and save the people from starvation. He declared that the question now is not who is right or who is wrong, but to keep the factories going. Ignoring the points raised by Healy, Newman pressed his argument until Judges Donnelly and Wright said they would agree to appoint a commission of three to have full and complete charge of the Zion financial matters, one to be selected by Dowie, one by Voliva and one by the Court.

The dozen lawyers present retired, and after a consultation of 20 minutes agreed that the question of the commission should be postponed until tomorrow, when Judge Wright will hear the final arguments in the case. If Dowie will agree to the three-men commission plan it will be ordered by the Court. Voliva's counsel said they would consent to the plan. The Court intimated to counsel that this commission would also be authorized to censor the matter appearing in "Leaves of Healing" and have charge of the use of the Tabernacle and ordered to prevent both Dowie and Voliva from using the place for personal attacks upon each other.

WOULD GO TO CONGRESS.

Breckinridge, East Side Laborer, Is a Candidate.

J. F. Breckenridge, a horseshoer, has announced himself a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Twenty-second Illinois District, which includes East St. Louis.

Mr. Breckenridge is 47 years old and was formerly president of the East St. Louis Building Trades Council.

"I am making the race as a labor candidate, independent of the Republican or Democratic organizations," said Mr. Breckenridge to a Post-Dispatch reporter Wednesday morning.

"The boys in the Twenty-second know me pretty well and they know I will represent their interests if elected.

"Next to John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, I consider myself the best orator among the trade union leaders of today.

"I have other qualifications for Congressional honors, too, but these I prefer not to speak about until the campaign is on in earnest."

INTERRUPTED LAWYER.

The next time F. Roehlk is a witness in court he will probably think twice before he interrupts a lawyer once. He contradicted a lawyer in Judge Douglas' court Tuesday afternoon and was fined $5 He got the five back, but not his peace of mind.

Roehlk had testified in the case of Mrs. E. G. Holthaus against the National Express Co. that when an express wagon ran into Mrs. Holthaus' vehicle, her horse was crippled. Attorney Frazier, for the other side, was trying to discredit this testimony in his argument to the jury. Roehlk jumped up and exclaimed, "The horse was crippled."

Judge Douglas called Roelhk to the bar. "What do you mean by that?" he asked.

"Well he tried to make me out a liar," stammered Roehlk, "and I ain't."

"I'll fine you $5," said Judge Douglas. "Mr. Sheriff, take charge of this man and do not release him until the fine is paid."

Roehlk promptly paid Deputy Sheriff Kreh and resumed his seat. Later Judge Douglas called him up, and, after lecturing him, remitted the fine.

Died From Heart Failure.

The funeral of James Jordan, jr., aged [illegible], will take place at the residence, 2317 South Second street, at 2 p. m. Thursday. Interment will be in St. Matthew's Cemetery. Jordan was employed at the Helmbacher Rolling Mills, Barton and De Kalb streets, and worked there until Saturday. He became slightly ill Sunday and grew worse until Monday morning, when his death occurred. Heart failure was the cause assigned.

Barbaglia's License Sought.

Excise Commissioner Mulvihill has ordered John Barbaglia and Joseph Oldani to show cause May 12 why their saloon license should not be revoked for violation of the Sunday law. They are in business at 5200 Daggett avenue. Barbaglia was sent to the penitentiary for complicity in the naturalization frauds of several years ago. He gained a pardon by testifying for the government in the Barrett, Dolan and Garrett cases.

BRYAN WON'T RUN AGAIN, UNLESS--

"Circumstances" Might Make Him Candidate, He Tells Wetmore.

That William Jennings Bryan never gets so far from home that the buzz of the presidential bee fails to reach his ears, is indicated by a letter from Mr. Bryan, mailed at Cairo, Egypt, received by Moses Wetmore of St. Louis. Mr. Bryan writes that he does not want another nomination, "unless circumstances seem to demand it."

In his letter, which, after the fashion of Eastern potentates, is signed with a single name, Mr. Bryan says:

"Cairo, Egypt, April 16. 1906.—My Dear Col. Wetmore: My brother has forwarded me your letter. I am always glad to hear from you, even if your flattering reports do make me blush.

"I am satisfied that the things I have been fighting for are growing, but who will be most available in 1908 is a question that cannot be answered now.

"I shall not do anything to secure another nomination, and do not want it unless circumstances seem to demand it—time alone can determine that.

"I appreciate your deep interest in the matter, and shall want to see you as soon as I get home. BRYAN."

MEN'S OUTFITTERS.

A SILENT, UNSEEN FOE.

The most insidious disease that mankind has to fear is that which attacks the kidneys. It comes on so silently, gains ground so rapidly, is so destructive, that thousands are lost who might have been saved in the beginning.

And yet, like any other human ill, kidney sickness gives early warnings of its presence, and these danger signals are quite easy to detect. Neglect, not ignorance, is usually the fatal error.

Signs of kidney trouble come either through the back or from the bladder; in backache, or some irregularity of the urine.

Pain in the back, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tells you of sick kidneys and warn you of the danger of dropsy, diabetes or Bright's disease.

Don't neglect the early kidney troubles. Cure them while they are easy to cure, and it will save a life of suffering. Use a remedy for the kidneys only—Doan's Kidney Pills. It will quickly right the kidneys and bladder, and drive away the aches and pains.

Thousands of grateful men and women testify to the cures they have found through this great specific. Statements of residents of this city, perhaps your neighbors, prove the value of Doan's Kidney Pills.

ST. LOUIS PROOF.

Mrs. J. M. Swallow of 4235 Garfield avenue, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in my family and from the results obtained I emphatically indorse the claims made for them. There is no use going into particulars of kidney complaint or weakness of the kidneys. Everyone so troubled knows exactly what the symptoms are, but everyone does not know how to at first check them and finally radically dispose of them. My advice is go to the Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. for Doan's Kidney Pills, take a course of the treatment and no fear need be entertained about the results."
